PLAN REFERENDUM HERE FOR ADDITIONS TO GRADE SCHOOLS

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

Some good friends who have received summons regarding nonpayment of personal property taxes have asked us, "Why are you doing this to us? Who put the pressure on you?"

Our answer—We have nothing to do with the forcible collection of the tax. We are publishing a newspaper. We think that our readers should know that the state's attorney of Cook county intends to force collections.

Privately, we advise delinquents that if a summons is ignored and an assistant state's attorney enters the case, chances for a settlement are slim. The only consolation we can offer is that your local schools are going to get some of the money you pay to the judge.

We do not usually "pick pockets" but we have discovered that the two cent pocket piece that some friend proudly exhibited to us recently is now in the pocket of the editor. We do not recall the identity of the owner, but we will gladly turn over the coin if he makes himself known.

Seventy-seven years ago, a copy of the Cook County Herald was used for backing of a mirror. Last week, Albert Goedke, mayor of Arlington Heights, received a letter and the yellowed pages of the Herald dated June 21, 1877.

The finder was J. L. Callahan of Lowell, Ind., and thought our mayor of today would enjoy learning what was news in his home community fifteen years before he was born.

We herewith pass back the word to the finder that the Cook County Herald which was established over 80 years ago is still being published, and for the past 55 years by the same family. Many thanks, partner.

What kind of school teachers do they have in Missouri? In Illinois when a boy from the other side of the tracks uses the words, "Go to hell" in the schoolroom, the teacher impresses upon the youngster that those are bad words.

According to a Chicago democratic newspaper, that expression was told a reporter by an ex-president of the United States last week. The words appeared in bold type of the publication's front page.

A man who has never learned to control his anger should never be elected to the highest office in the United States.

Why did not that Missouri schoo. teacher do a better job?

The hospital charter issued by the secretary of state to the Northwest area brings that project a little nearer. A financial plan is in the making that its promoters think assures its success.

It is a big project and one that should succeed. However, it will require a big organization and a lot of money to bring it about.

Statistics show that the hospital should serve a population of 40,000, which brings into the picture a half dozen northwest towns and surrounding rural areas.

It is our thinking that the first step must be a correlation of hospital thinking on the part of the hospital minded people of all the towns.

The more people who get behind and push, the greater is the possibility of success.

We personally do not enjoy jazz, but we supposed that we were in the minority until this week when over a thousand persons attended a concert given by Lester Bell singers Sunday evening, packing Arlington Heights high school auditorium.

The previous Thursday the much advertised jazz program that has been packing auditoriums in many large cities, only drew an attendance of 500 in the 4,000 seat Arlington gymnasium.

We are not so old fashioned as we supposed we were. We realize, however, that the admission price to the jazz event might have been a bit too high for the young people who thrive on jazz.

We are dead certain that the navy does not recognize Emily Post as an authority on soup. We enjoyed the soup served at every dinner during our "visit" with the navy because we did not have to hold the cracker in one hand and the spoon in the other. Everybody, from the executive officer down, consumed their soup the way our grandfathers did.

An Arlington Heights taxpayer presents in this week's Fence Post a suggestion for street widening that merits consideration by the village board. The widening of North Dunton, Arlington Heights could be accomplished by such a method.

While we are on the same subject we suggest that the village make a personal investigation of the cost of mercury lights in other communities.

The first sign that met our eyes when we returned from our recent trip, notified the patrons of the barbershop that the opening hour was now nine o'clock.

Our reaction was: "What next? Are not the barbers content in making their prices so high that a family of boys has to cut down on eats in order to get their hair cut?"

We then realized that we had no cause to grumble. Just because editors arise at 5:30 a.m. every morning, is no reason why the rest of the business world cannot sleep two hours longer.

We do feel sorry for the school kids who start boarding busses two hours before storekeepers unlock their doors.

Women To Back Village In Action On Rail Crossings

The women's organizations in Arlington Heights let it be known to the village board Tuesday night they would be behind any action the village takes to get more adequate and modern protection at the railroad crossings.

Letters on the matter from 11 different organizations were read by Trustee Charles Rehfeldt. The letters urged immediate action on the railroad crossing problem. Trustee Rehfeldt moved they be entered into the record and kept on file, to be presented at such time as the village board, the railroad and Illinois Commerce Commission officials get together to work out the problem.

JUST TWO WEEKS ago the board authorized the village engineers to make an extensive study of the railroad crossing and to present a detailed recommendation as to the best method of protection. Such a report is necessary before it can be brought before the ICC for a hearing.

As a temporary measure, to give added protection at present, the board authorized the police department to put an officer at the State rd. crossing to keep cars from crossing the tracks while the stop light on Northwest hwy. is red. He will be on duty from 7 to 9 a.m. and from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., during which hours the crossing is most heavily traveled.

The recently appointed Women's Advisory committee to the board were directly responsible for the letters sent to the board. Organizations writing are as follows: St. James Catholic Women's Guild, Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Women's Guild, Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, St. Peter Lutheran school Mothers' club, Eli Skinner Chapter of the DAR, Parent-Teachers association, Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church, Arlington Heights Nurses' club, Ladies Aid and Dorcas Aid, both of St. Peter Lutheran church, and the Arlington Heights Woman's club.

Bill Osmanski To Talk Before Midget Players Tuesday

Climax to the midget football program sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district is planned for Tuesday night, November 24, in the fieldhouse when participating boys and their dads are invited to hear Bill Osmanski, former Chicago Bear great, tell some of his experiences. They'll also see pictures of last year's Bear games and will hear Coach "Bus" Ormsbee tell about the midget football season just completed.

Coach Ormsbee will tell of plans for next year, too, when an enlarged setup is sought. The park board expects to have full equipment, including pants, shirts, helmets and pads for all comers next season. Only thing the boys will be asked to provide will be shoes, a suggestion for any youngster slated to be in fifth through eighth grades next fall to ask Santa.

MORE THAN 135 boys participated in this year's Saturday morning program. Fundamentals were the order of every workout with a couple of light intrasquad games included at the end. Assisting Ormsbee were Coaches Bill Beckman and Carl Nelson.

Fullback Bill Osmanski was a Bear great in the late '30s and early '40s, helping several championship teams win honors for George Halas. He's now a doctor, but has plenty of stories to tell of his football days with the Bears.

Call Conference Of School Heads And Builders

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools has called a conference of home builders and school officials in the Crystal Room of Hotel Sherman, Tuesday evening, Dec. 8.

The conference is the result of replies that Puffer has received from builders to a letter that he forwarded to them under date of November 12, which read in part as follows:

"The home building which you have done and are doing, presents certain problems to our schools and at times makes the task of properly housing children of your purchasers a very difficult one. In the interests of helping our schools meet this problem, and in the interests of trying to work out a satisfactory solution which cannot be done without the cooperation of builders, I am inviting you to a meeting to be held Tuesday, Dec. 8, at one o'clock in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Sherman.

"The purpose of this meeting is to discuss with school superintendents and school boards the mutual problem of adequate school housing. I hope the president or general manager of your firm can be present and participate in discussing the problems presented with the hope of working out cooperative solutions."

Scouts to Collect Scrap Paper on North Side This Saturday

The Boy Scouts of Arlington Heights will make their second fall pick up of scrap paper in the area north of Northwest hwy. this Saturday morning.

Following the practice started in October, Cub Scouts will call on every home this week to again remind residents of this project. Please tie paper and magazines securely or put it in cardboard boxes and have the bundles on the curb by 9 a.m. Saturday.

The scouts appreciate the residents' cooperation in the last drive. It made their job much easier.

The loading area for the pick up will be the North school grounds. Anyone late in getting his paper out or those living in an outlying area are asked to bring their bundles to the North school before noon.

Paper will be picked up on the north side only on this Saturday. However, anyone living on the south side and running out of storage space, is welcome to bring papers to the North school. The next south side pick up will be made December 12. Please keep paper for the scouts. They need more equipment.

Professional Building Added To Prospect Heights Shop Center

Prospect Heights has the distinction of being the first town in the northwest area to open a professional building, devoted exclusively to medical care. Three doctors and a pharmacy now occupy the quarters that have been provided for them by Carlton Smith in the new building that will be officially called the Prospect Heights Professional building.

Dr. Martin Meisenheimer, physician and surgeon, has a three room suite. He came to the community in 1947. The other offices are occupied by Dr. Edward S. Lyman, dentist and Dr. Richard Smiley, optometrist. Both have moved from their former offices in the business block into the professional building.

John Brennan, pharmacist, is the fourth occupant. He will confine his attention to the compounding of prescriptions, sales of drugs, and medical supplies, cosmetics and toiletries.

The opening of the medical building this week end will also celebrate changes in the original business block.

Robert Jacobs, who has been employed a number of years by Heinz Foods and is a Prospect Heights resident, has taken over the former drug store quarters. He will operate the soda fountain and handle the many specialties that have been carried there in the past.

OTHER CHANGES are in the lunch bar, food shop and insurance agency. Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes of Arlington Hts. are operating the food shop. Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, who recently moved to Prospect Hts. from Bensenville, are operating the restaurant and lunch bar. Edward Walpole, of Arlington Heights, is operating an insurance office at 1 Elmhurst road.

Mr. Smith is erecting three adidtional stores. One will be occupied by National Miller Publications, which is moving there from Chicago. Another store will be occupied by Clarence Petersen, Lake Zurich and James Cameron, Palatine, who will operate a floor and wall covering store.

As a further feature at the grand opening the Little League committee of Prospect Heights will sponsor a hard times party and dance, to be held in the three new stores before they are occupied by the new leaseholders. Patrons are asked to dress in costume or old clothes. The function will start Saturday night at 8:30 p. m.

The shopping center of Prospect Heights, the first unit which was erected in 1939, serves not only that community, but a large surrounding area.

While neighboring towns have been "talking" about shopping centers, Prospect Heights has been providing such a service for some time, with parking for 800 automobiles. "Its growth will continue," says Carlton Smith

High School Expansion Program To Be Discussed At Open House

Patrons of Arlington Heights high school district are urged to attend the open house tonight, Thursday. The program will get under way at 8 o'clock in the new gymnasium on N. Ridge ave.

Larry Jenness, speech teacher, will act as master of ceremonies. During the evening, new faculty members will be introduced, Elmer F. Laurin, president of the board of education, will make a presentation, Martin C. Dahlberg, music teacher, and Judith Walters, senior music student, will present an organ recital, and John Schaff, secretary to the board, will dedicate the new organ.

KENNETH E. DOUGAN, member of the board, will discuss the needs of the high school district arising out of the rapid expansion and development within the Elk Grove and Wheeling townships. Dougan will present enrollment trends since the end of World War II to the present. He will discuss grade school enrollments as they affect high school enrollments for next year and the years through 1960. Through graphic illustrations, he will show the relationship between grade school enrollments and high school enrollments throughout this period.

The movement of people into the area will also figure in this presentation. Both the physical growth of the high school plant and the growth of high school population will be discussed, including the year 1922, when the original building was built, and the present.

IN ADDITION to pointing out needs, Dougan will point out possible ways to meet the needs created by the rapid growth of the adult and student population. He will also discuss the two-high school proposition that the board of education will submit to the people of district 214.

The board of education, the administration and the faculty of the high school, sincerely urge the patrons of the school district to attend this meeting so they may become acquainted with the present situation, the needs of the future, and the planning that is necessary to meet the needs of secondary education students of this area.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria, where teachers will be on hand to greet parents of their students.

Plan Group Recommends Vacation of Streets For Shopping Center

Arlington Heights Plan Commission recommended Monday night the vacation of four streets in the area that will be used for the new Kensington rd. shopping center. The petition for vacation was presented by Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Fritz, owners of the land.

The subcommittee, which recommended the action, suggested that the vacation be null and void if the shopping center is not constructed. It also suggested that the developer improve Dryden, which is a future north and south bound arterial street and would give direct access to the property from the north.

Streets to be vacated are Campbell, Wing and Beverly lane. The plan commission's report pointed out to the board that the erection of a shopping center in this area does not conflict with the present village plan or with any plan of the commission for the future development of the village.

The recommendation, read at the Tuesday night meeting of the board, was taken under advisement until an adjourned meeting Wednesday night, at which time the petitioners and John Lindstrom, who plans to erect the shopping center, were invited to further discuss the matter with the board.

On the advice of counsel the plan commission also put its stamp of approval on Section No. 3 of the Kimball Hill project. Attorneys consulted took the stand that the July ordinance did not apply to a subdivision plat that had been presented to the board before the passage of the ordinance.

Barber Shoppers To Present Annual Concert Sunday Night

The Third Annual Night of Harmony will be presented this Sunday, at 8:15 p.m. by the Arlington Heights chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., in the old gym at the high school.

"It promises to be an evening of delightful, relaxing music," said Stan Myers, president of the group.

Amend Motion To Permit Developer To Start Homes

The Arlington Heights village board amended a motion Tuesday night in order to permit the developers of Virginia Terrace to post $73,600 as a performance bond in connection with the release of 45 building permits for homes in the area.

The motion originally called for the posting of $40,000 in escrow and $360,000 in performance bonds, which would cover the sewer, water, street and sidewalk improvements to go into the entire 80 acre site. Harold Williams, representative for Raymond Lutgert, developer, informed the board that no bonding company would issue bonds in that amount unless there was a signed contract.

THE 45 HOMES are to be erected along Oakton and Wilke rds. and the $73,600 would be adequate to supply these homes with services in event the overall development did not take place. Williams was again reminded that the village would not permit any sewer and water connections before the plans and specifications for the entire subdivision were approved by the board. The engineers expect to have these ready for the board's consideration within 60 days.

Trustee Charles Rehfeldt voted no on the amended motion.

A $50 bond to be posted on each new home under construction to prevent damage to curb and sidewalks, was waived by the board due to the fact there are no existing curbs and sidewalks in the Virginia Terrace subdivision, with the exception of the home being built on Oakton, where the bonds will be required.

Trustees Robert Bishop and Charles Rehfeldt voted no on this issue.

McNEVIN MOTORS will be notified by the board to stop parking new cars on the streets of the Stonegate subdivision, as well as on a vacant lot adjacent to their place of business. The lot is zoned residential and can not be used for commercial purposes, and the streets in the village can not be used as storage space for commercial purposes.

Dan Schmeichel, owner of the McNevin building, will also be notified to remove the stone he had put on the vacant residential lot. He told the police he planned to use the lot as parking space for tenants living in the apartments above the garage. Such an act would be in violation of the zoning ordinance.

The board passed a motion to have plans and specifications drawn up to fence in the water tower and pumping station at Douglas ave. and Northwest hwy. and to have a ventilator installed in the pumping station.

Police Warn Young 'Fire Bugs' of Dangers Of Playing with Matches

Juvenile officer Edward Hinks laid the law down Monday night to five juvenile boys who were apprehended by Arlington Heights police this week for throwing lighted matches at one another.

The boys appeared in court with their parents and were told the seriousness of the offense. They were turned over to their parents who were asked by Hinks to deal with them as they saw fit.

Police received another call this week from a resident who reported he saw several young boys throwing lighted matches onto awnings in the business district in the vicinity of Davis, Dunton and Campbell sts. The police were unable to locate the boys.

Another call from a resident on N. Ridge ave. reported three little girls were lighting a fire near the complainant's home. The fire was out by the time the police arrived but they warned the girls, 8 and 9 years old, about the danger of lighting fires.

Still another call reported small children starting a fire at a home under construction. Investigation by the police found the children gone, but several charred sticks remained as evidence there had been a fire.

Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog asks parents to warn their children about the danger of playing with matches and lighting fires. This practice could result in serious injury to the child, as well as damage to property, especially with the dry conditions due to no rain.

The docket was small at Monday night's traffic court with only three cases appearing before Judge William Neumann, all of whom were booked for speeding. They paid a total of $44 in fines, including court costs.

Police answered a call to aid Phyllis Stockton, 17, of Arlington Heights, who had fallen off a horse and injured her hip. She was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, for examination.

Mrs. H. P. Keely, 700 Lynden le., reported to police she had the gates lowered on her car at the Vail st. railroad crossing. She said she had stopped before proceeding across the tracks and that she had heard no warning bell. The antenna on the car was broken.

John Heintz of Arlington Fender and Body shop told police a 6 ply, 600x16 spare tire, tube and wheel from a Chevrolet panel truck were stolen from the fenced in area in back of his shop November 16. A ladder, apparently used by the thieves, was found against the fence.

Trude Land Development company reported that lumber was stolen from their building site at 908 S. Evergreen. A tarpaulin had been placed over the lumber Friday night, and was still there Monday morning, but the lumber was missing.

All grade and high schools in the area will enjoy a two-day holiday next week in observance of Thanksgiving. They will return to classes Monday, November 30.

Seek Increases In Tax Levy To Operate, Maintain Buildings

Letters explaining the immediate need for enlarging the New South school and the Ridge school in Arlington Heights before September, 1954, were sent to residents of school district 25 this week.

The letter also revealed the board of education has authorized its architects to make plans for this expansion. They hope to hold a referendum in late January, begin construction by March 1 and occupy the additional classrooms in September, 1954.

Ridge school, which opened this fall, was built to accommodate kindergarten through fifth grade pupils in its neighborhood. However, its six rooms would house only kindergarten and the first three grades from that area; in fact, it was necessary to transport more than 30 kindergarten children to the North school, as well as fourth and fifth grade pupils.

THE SEVEN rooms in the New South school permitted the conversion of five rooms in the old South school to Junior high school use. However, the remainder of the South school must be given over to the Junior high next fall.

In June, 1947, enrollment in the public grade schools totaled 629; in October, 1953 it totaled 2,200. It is estimated that in June 1958 the enrollment will hit the 3,600 mark.

The proposed additions, the letter pointed out, were not included as part of the new buildings because the district did not have the legal bonding power to do it then. Bonds retired in the meantime plus the new 1954 assessed valuation should allow it to be done this spring.

Besides the two new additions the referendum will also ask to have authorized permission to add a physical education room and a maintenance shop to the Junior high school and make certain necessary alterations there; levy an additional 12½ cents for funds to operate the schools and levy an additional 8¾ cents for funds to maintain, insure, and improve the school buildings and grounds.

THE OLD SOUTH school is very adaptable for Junior high use, but certain alterations are required, particularly to prepare some of the rooms to be used for special subjects, such as shop, art, home economics, and physical education.

The board points out that practically every neighboring city's elementary school district has beenauthorized by the voters to levy an educational tax rate of $1.12½. The maximum in this district is still $1.

In order not to lower standards here, or fail to employ enough teachers, or not properly maintain the schools, or abandon the kindergarten program, or resort to any other method necessary when a district doesn't have enough money, the board of education feels the increase should be approved.

The board invites all citizens who have questions on any of the issues discussed here to contact any one of them and they will be glad to personally go into the matter with them. Members of the board are: Robert R. Lockwood, president; Melvin L. Kurtz, secretary; V. L. Bedingfield, Richard L. Johnston, Joseph E. Lohr, Carl F. Mees and James E. Wood. Ralph E. Clabaugh is superintendent of schools.

Jack Braham, 8, Deerfield, died Wednesday morning as a result of injuries received when he was struck by an auto Tuesday morning, while crossing Milwaukee ave. to board his school bus.

THE LAD was rushed to Highland Park hospital where it was found he suffered severe head and chest injuries as well as internal injuries. He never regained consciousness.

Deputies LeRoy Grever and Clayton Tiffany of the Lake County Sheriff's police investigated the accident, which occurred on Milwaukee ave., approximately a mile north of Wheeling. Driver of the auto, Dean H. Meacham of Wheeling, was traveling north on Milwaukee ave., reported the deputies, when his auto struck the boy, who was crossing from the east side of the street to get on the school bus stopped to pick him up. The report said the boy was thrown 156 feet north of the skid marks made by the auto.

Meacham was booked by the police for failure to stop for a school bus and released on $500 bond pending a hearing in Waukegan November 24.

Dist. 57 To Study Construction That Will Cut Classroom Cost

Two Mount Prospect contractors and Mayor Lams met with the board of education of school district 57 last Thursday night to discuss methods of alleviating the acute classroom shortage resulting from the current building boom.

The Alfinis, father and son, and Dan Serafine, both of whom are planning extensive subdivisions, took cognizance of the problem facing the local schools, and offered to "sit in" on the board's continuing study of how to provide at the lowest possible cost, the number of classrooms necessary to house the growing enrollment.

They agreed it is up to the builders to help. "We want the people who buy our homes to have good schools, and it is our problem to get them," Alphonso Alfini commented.

Serafine carried the proposition a step further with the remark it is the whole community's problem.

THE REMEDY must be twofold, board president Russell Smith pointed out. The cost per classroom must be cut, and light industry must be encouraged to locate within the school district to help boost the assessed valuation.

At the next regular meeting of the board, which has been advanced to November 24 because of Thanksgiving, representatives of a Missouri firm of architects will advise the board regarding a low cost school building known as Maximlite which they have developed.

District 25 Asks Title To Park Site in Westgate Subdivision

Arlington Heights board of education, District 25 has suggested to the Plan Commission that the developers of the south section of Westgate be asked to locate their proposed 9.5 acres of park area north of Grove st. extended; also that said tract adjoin an improved street.

The letter to the commission stated the park district was not interested in the park area and that any dedication should be directed to the school district.

E. Plank, chairman of the parking committee discussed further use of railroad parks for parking and the responsibility of the North Western to provide parking for commuters.

It is his opinion that some way should be found to awaken the public to the importance of obeying traffic signs. The police department erected at State rd. and the railroad a stop sign as a safety measure. It is being generally ignored. Chairman O'Brien said the cooepration of the public is a necessity

The curtain will rise on two one act plays November 20 at 8 p.m. in the activity building of St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights.

The young people of the church, members of the Walther League, will present "The Rising Flood," a gripping drama by Hans Josef Schmidt. The story takes place in an upstairs room during a spring flood on the Ohio river.

Members of the cast include: Gerry Berg, Donald Gronert, Doris Rudolph, Clayton Bebber, Joe Horcher, Judy Tubbs and William Gappert.

The second play, "Wilbur's Wild Night," is a comedy by Donald Payton and is a sequel to the play, "Love Hits Wilbur," which was presented by the local league last season.

Members of the cast are Ronald Thon, Karen Lacina, Audrey Gronert, Victor Grimm, Virginia Ruhnow, Myra Clausing, William Stade and Elwood Luerssen.

Both plays are under the direction of Lester Rush, counselor for the Walther League.

Square Dance Sunday Opens Holiday Season

Parishoners and friends of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church, Arlington Heights, will start the traditional Thanksgiving holiday in festive fashion Sunday night with a square dance at St. Mary's hall, Buffalo Grove.

Under the calling of Don Finfrock, well-known to local square dance enthusiasts, the party will get under way at 8 p.m.

Chairman of the affair sponsored by the Holy Name Society of the church, Albinus Weidner, advises that beginners as well as veteran square dancers will enjoy themselves, since Finfrock gives ample instruction prior to the respective dances.

Music and dancing will be only part of the festivities, however. Food and beverages, including turkey sandwiches and a variety of liquid refreshments, will be available to the party goers at a nominal price.

All proceeds from the event will go toward the school building fund. Tickets are available from officers of the Holy Name Society and the Catholic Women's club as well as from several local merchants including Stefanik's Dairy and Food Store and Jake's Barber Shop. Admissions may also be paid at the door Sunday.

TV NEWS

by Don Hager

All the furore over the firing of singer Julius La Rosa by Arthur Godfrey apparently hasn't hurt the career of the ex-sailor. He was drawing a reported $900 per week for his Godfrey stint and besides the $3,000 he'll now get from Ed Sullivan each time he appears on "Toast of the Town" he'll be drawing added pay for his new radio show on CBS, the Godfrey network. And he's now free to reap the added coin of personal appearances.

The popular mystery team, Mr. and Mrs. North, who have been appearing only in re-runs this fall, will return with a new series starting in January. Other new series starting include the long-awaited "Life With Father," starring Leon Amos and Laurene Tuttle, and the Robert Young starrer, "Father Knows Best," which has been a popular radio series. Only thing that has delayed starting of the Robert Young show on TV has been the problem of casting his TV wife. So far the applicants tested have been the right age but not pretty enough, or very pretty but too young. On radio there's no such problem.

TV has a lot of problems radio doesn't have . . . and that goes for the TV set itself. But you won't have to worry about TV problems if your set bears the name of Dumont, a name that means dependable performance in TV, plus beauty of style and cabinetry. See these Dumont models in our big display of quality makes at DON HAGER'S TV & APPLIANCE, 11 W. Davis St., Arlington Heights. Phone CLearbrook 3-0700.

Seniors To Give 'Goodbye My Fancy' Friday

The senior class of Arlington Heights high school will present the play "Goodbye, My Fancy," in the girl's gym of the school this Friday night.

The play, by Fay Kanin, was a successful Broadway comedy of 1948. It is the story of a liberal Congresswoman who returns to her old school to be awarded an honorary degree. As her chief interest is publicizing the horrors of war, she has brought with her a documentary film on the subject to show to the new graduates.

The conflict over whether or not this film is too harsh and improper exposes the school president as spineless and irresolute, instead of the upstanding and outspoken figure with whom the congresswoman had thought herself in love. This disenchantment drives her into the arms of a wartime acquaintance who, as a Life photographer, has come to cover the event. The play deals with this situation humorously, but with a serious undertone.

THE PLAY provides no "star" parts, but requires a cast of eight boys and twelve girls. Carole Hedemark, student assistant director, is confident that the cast is ready for a really grand performance.

Pat Eaton and Carol Mullara will serve as prompters. Doug Morrissey, who plays a small part on the stage is managing the stage crew. Dale Johnson will handle the lighting. Janet Packard is chairman of the ticket committee, and Sandy Johnson chairman of the publicity committee.

Members of the senior class have sold tickets this week, and they may be purchased at the door. Adult tickets are 75 cents, student tickets 50 cents. Proceeds of the ticket sales will go to the senior class.

Lions Entertain Wives, Guests at Annual Turkey Dinner Tuesday

The annual Lions ladies' night turkey dinner was held in the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran school dining hall Tuesday. Immediately following the welcome by Lion President Quentin Ford, a delicious dinner was served to Lion members, their wives and guests.

A short business meeting followed at which plans for future meetings were discussed.

A broom sale will be held two Fridays in December. The blind people in Arkansas who make the brooms will receive the proceeds obtained by Lion members who will be stationed throughout Arlington selling these brooms.

The father and son banquet will be held in January at which time the Chicago White Sox assistant farm manager will speak and show pictures of the White Sox team. A picture on "Little League" atcivities also will be shown.

The club will present the loud speaking system used in the dining hall of the activity building to St. Peter congregation as a token of appreciation to the ladies of the Dorcas Aid who have faithfully served the Lions' meals the past 28 years. A similar system will be installed in the gymnasium of the building and will be donated by the Lions club.

Special guests at the meeting included honorary Lion member Dr. Elfeld; Lion district governor, Cleytus Day of Des Plaines, who also spoke a few words; and two charter members of the Arlington Heights Lions club present at the banquet, Lion Reese, and Lion Dunn.

Lion Les Griffith presented Whitey Roberts, who furnished the Lions and their guests with a varied program, which included rope skipping, plate juggling and several acts with audience participation.

The flower centerpieces used as decorations on the tables were distributed to local Arlington Heights sick people.

ROBERT FRIARS

About The Barber Shoppers

by GEORGE GLOW

Readers of this column have become acquainted with the tenors, basses and baritones who perform with the Arlington Heights Chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc. Another type of singer that will be heard in the Third Annual Night of Harmony this Sunday, at 8:15 p.m. in the old high school gymnasium is the lead singer.

A lead singer is a chap who stands up and carries in loud clear tones the melody notes while his mates are executing harmonies. The purpose of having a lead singer is, of course, to apprise the audience whether the quartet has embarked on "Yankee Doodle" or "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." A lead is a versatile fellow who can, when necessary, join the tenors or even the baritones but never the basses. A certain aloofness between lead singers and basses has always been in evidence.

That the financial business provides a fertile background for lead singers is attested by the fact that in this category are Floyd W. Brodahl of the Bell Savings and Loan Association, George A. Glow of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank and Harold T. Henry of the City National Bank and Trust Company.

Other leads of note are James Colvin, a reformed tenor, who is with the Encyclopedia Brittanica, Fred Jasper of Jasper's Reports, who is also a bridge player, bowler, golfer of some note and the lead of the Four Hoarsemen, Owen Kompelien of Baxter Laboratories and Fred Hedemark and Willis G. Stephens, both designing engineers with Skil Corporation.

Not to be overlooked is John Raupp, well known in Buffalo Grove circles as an agricultural technician and dairyman. He is also number one man of the hook and ladder division of the volunteer firemen at Long Grove where he developed his melodious voice by warning neighbors of the impending arrival of the fire apparatus prior to the purchase of the siren. He sings lead in the Cathedral Chords and in St. Mary's Choir.

Stan Myers, president, and Joe Bryson, director, are mighty proud of their lead section, as well as all others in the Arlington chorus.

School Board Entertains Employees At Dinner

Employees of the Arlington Heights public grade schools were entertained at dinner Wednesday evening by the board of education.

This annual dinner is prepared by the cafeteria staff and served by the board members. The gathering affords a chance for the board to become acquainted with the teachers and other school employees, as well as the wives and husbands, who were also guests at the dinner.

"Holland and Belgium" will be the scenes visited by the members of the travel and adventure class in the Arlington Heights high school adult evening school November 24, with commentaries by the young adventurer and motion picture producer, Robert Friars.

Before he was twenty this ambitious traveler had visited every state in the United States and Mexico, every province of Canada, and had tramped to Alaska. One of his most ambitious programs was undertaken when he and his wife took a cameraman and assistant, a station wagon outfitted with a 17,000 watt generator, and six miles of film to Europe to make the pictures in Holland, Belgium, France and Switzerland, pictures showing perfectly lighted interior scenes as well as outdoor sequences of unexcelled beauty.

THE FILM story begins aboard the Nieuw Amsterdam on the Atlantic crossing, docking in Rotterdam. The camera travels to Oudewater and the witches weigh house, on to Delft where interior scenes are shown of the making of the famous blue and white china, taking the viewer then to Utrecht where Mrs. Roosevelt receives an honorary degree in the church in the company of famous personages including Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and her Prince Bernhardt. The Walcheron Island visit shows quaint villages, immaculately clean and pretty, and citizens in their national costume for their daily work.

With a minimum of border formality, one crosses into Belgium to the beach area of Knokke, Le-Zout, and Middlekerk-Bad, on to Bruge, a city famous for the vistas of its canals, and the exquisite laces which are its pride. Shown also in Bruge is the religious procession of the Holy Blood. The camera travels on to Ghent and the medieval castle of the Count of Flanders overlooking the bustling traffic and modern innovations of the city working hard at recovery from the devastations of war. Scenes of the handicrafts of various locales abound in the film, unusual because of the lighting effects which bring in closeup scenes of the sand-painter at Hillegom, the making of fine glassware at Val St. Lambert, cookies and copper at Dinant, and flax for making Belgian linen.

The big cities of Brussells and Antwerp are not neglected in the travelogue, which brings street scenes of the modern and medieval buildings, the guild houses, and the bustling port of Antwerp to view.

THE BORDER is re-crossed as the traveler returns to the Netherlands, home of the sturdy blond Dutch people, citizens of thrift and cleanliness. Brilliant orange, the nation's color, brightens the screen with the view of The Hague, and appears again in every city and village in the country. The Mauritshuis Museum with its world famous collection of paintings by the Dutch masters is visited, and Amsterdam, city of diamond cutters, of gaudily decorated streets and carnivals, and beautiful modern buildings. National costumes are shown in the scenes of Vollendam, a fishing village on the Zuider Zee, Staphorst and Spakenburg, where the costumes of each town differ slightly and are worn daily, not just to attract the tourist.

Close views are shown of the faces of the people, their homes, villages and cities. The famous windmills are much in evidence, though these colorful landmarks were fast disappearing until the government demanded they be preserved for posterity. Very little time is devoted to war damage as the camera eye travels through scenes of the tulip festival with fields and fields of blossoms, and huge floral designs made of cut blossoms, on to a canal trip through the charming town of Geithoorn which is accessible only by boat, to the Alkmaar cheese market where the fine cheeses are brought to market and auctioned off to be carried away on strange barrows by colorfully dressed porters.

The film closes after showing a canal trip to Leyden and the church of the Pilgrim Fathers, the dyke-building, and a trip into the north country of Friesland, with its Holstein cattle and unusual farm houses with fine thatched roofs and beautiful farms.

In 1950 the nation's steel production required 1.8 million net tons of manganese ore. More than 90 per cent of this ore was imported by ship.

Thanksgiving Day Service Planned at Christian Science Church

A special Thanksgiving service, open to the general public, is announced by First Church of Christ, Scientist, for 11 a.m., Thanksgiving day. The service will be held in the Arlington Heights fieldhouse at 500 E. Miner st., Arlington Heights.

The latter portion of the service will be devoted to spontaneous expressions of gratitude by Christian Scientists for God's goodness as shown in spiritual growth, healings, and other blessings.

Selections on the subject of praise and thanksgiving to God will be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, in a specially prepared Lesson-Sermon entitled "Thanksgiving."

The service is open to the general public and local church members have invited everyone to attend.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

The welcome mat will very definitely be out tonight, Thursday, at the high school in Arlington Heights when men and women of the district are invited to the 1953 open house of the year. Program will begin at 8 p.m.

Kenneth E. Dougan, member of the board of education, will discuss plans for future development of the high school plant. He will show slides of proposed building ideas and will tell of problems confronting a district with rapidly mounting enrollment such as this one.

New school organ will be dedicated that evening as well, with John Schaff making dedicatory remarks. Faculty member Martin Dahlberg and student Judith Walters will give a recital on the new organ.

Larry Jenness, chairman of the faculty committee, will act as master of ceremonies while LeRoy J. Knoeppel, superintendent, and Elmer F. Laurin, board president, will also speak.

Tonight's open house offers parents and other residents of the high school district a golden opportunity—a chance to see what's going on at the school now, what is planned for years to come, and an opportunity to meet the faculty.

In Oldest Clothes

Members of the Junior Woman's club will be hostesses Saturday night at one of the features of their club year termed most popular by those who attend. It's their Hard Times party where every one wears oldest clothes and entertainment is strictly informal.

Saturday's dance will start at 9 p.m. at Arlington Country club. Bob Koch and his band will play for dancing, and admission is $2.50 a couple. Tickets may be purchased from members or at the door Saturday evening.

A popular feature of this affair is that ham sandwiches, potato chips and pretzels will be available all evening long. At so many similar dances there is no food on hand, but this is one problem the Arlington Junior women have solved to every one's satisfaction.

Bundle Days

Today, Thursday, and tomorrow are the annual bundle days of Arlington Heights PTA. School children are taking warm, clean and usable clothing items to their schools to be packed by the PTA for distribution to the needy.

Clothing is sent to those who need it in this country and abroad. Virtually everything is on the "needed" list except for high-heeled shoes. Shoes of any other type are especially wanted, however. Sheets and other bedding are needed, too, in addition to the clothing.

Ideal Speaker

Officials of the Arlington Midget football program have obtained just about the perfect speaker for their wind-up program next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the field house. He's Dr. Bill Osmanski, former Chicago Bear star, who is certainly well-qualified to tell the boys about many aspects of professional and college football.

The party winds up the first season of Midget football for grade school boys of Arlington Heights. Head coach "Bus" Ormsbee expects this first season, successful as it was, is only the beginning.

Dads are invited to accompany their football-playing sons to the rally. Films of the Chicago Bears will also be shown.

Night of Harmony

That paragon of musical groups, the Arlington chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, presents its annual Night of Harmony Sunday evening at the high school.

President Stan Myers, Conductor Joe Bryson and their gang are expecting a large turnout of close harmony enthusiasts, if past audiences are any indication.

The local chorus and individual quartets will perform, and there will be several guest groups to help make up an evening of variety in music. Admission is $1.50.

Girl Scout News

The following girls were invested in Brownie troop 246 in Arlington Heights November 4:

Pamela Anderson, Mary Ellen Bratko, Marie Bradley, Stephanie Brown, Julie Busing, Candy Fleischhauer, Claudia Hansen, Barbara Kent, Barbara Langols, Suzy Low, Janet Miller, Penny Pennington, Jeanie Robinson, Susanne Smith, Tari Suhr, Eleanor Waters and Gail Watland.

The leaders of this troop are Mrs. John Low and Mrs. Willard Fleischhauer.

Chief Warns Motorists To Be Ready For Winter

Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog watched a load of Thanksgiving pumpkins going by yesterday, and through a process of logical deduction, he saw in them a warning to motorists.

"When the frost is on the pumpkin," the chief said, "it means that pretty soon there's going to be snow."

November snowstorms, Chief Skoog said, can be more hazardous to motorists than January blizzards, for the reason that they come unexpectedly and find many motorists unprepared both mechanically and psychologically for the problems that snow driving brings.

Right now is the time, Chief Skoog emphasized, for all wise motorists to observe the following safety rules:

1. Don't blame accidents on the weather; be prepared for bad weather.
2. When snow comes, get the "feel" of the road when starting out.
3. Keep the windshield clear of fog and frost, and be sure headlights, windshield wiper blades, and defrosters are working.
4. On snow and ice, use tire chains. They cut stopping distance in half, and give 4 to 7 times greater traction.
5. When you have to stop, don't jam on the brakes. "Pump" your brakes to avoid skids.
6. Follow other cars at a safe distance. Give yourself room in which to stop.

Asked if tire chains are necessary if a car has "winterized" tires, Chief Skoog said that the report of the National Safety Council's committee on Winter Driving Hazards has found that snow tires with special treads cannot approach tire chains for safety.

Even less reliable, Chief Skoog added, are so called "inertia or gyro type anti-skid devices." These, he explained, are mysterious pipe-like gadgets which are being widely sold and installed under the rear frame or luggage trunk of automobiles, on the claim that they prevent winter skids. National Safety Council tests, the chief said, show these so-called "stabilizing" devices to be of no help whatever on snow or ice. He warned against being misled into trouble by a false sense of security.

Given Highest Award From Chicago JAC

The Chicago Junior Association of Commerce and Industry honored its own last Friday night.

Seven members of the young businessmen's association were singled for honors at a banquet held at the Red Lacquer room of the Palmer House in Chicago. An audience of 800 saw the men honored and later heard guest speaker John Slezak, assistant secretary of the army, who spoke on the federal administration.

Six of the seven men received awards for their activities in the association's civic improvement projects during the year just ended, while the seventh man, John Weber, former vice president of the association, and an employee of Commonwealth Edison company, was presented the group's highest trophy, the "Through Work to Honor" award.

Weber, a Mount Prospect resident, received the trophy in recognition of his services since 1949 when he entered the association. He played a key role in last year's dollars for decency drive, in the air fair held at O'Hare field, and in other association endeavors.

Weber, former vice president and director of the group, lives at 418 HiLusi, Mount Prospect. He is married and has two children, Barbara and Craig.

An official of the association since 1950, John has not only directed many projects, but has personally participated in many of the projects under his supervision. In 1951 he was elected vice president. This year, even though he has earned the right to relax, he is still lending his capable assistance in a number of projects.

High School Students Attend Conference on Human Relations

The sociology class and senior common learnings classes at Arlington Heights high school Monday received detailed reports on the Tri-County high school conference on human relations, which was held last week at Thorne Hall, on the Northwestern campus.

Each of the classes had one or more representatives at the conference, and two local students, Janet Seigel and Janann Jarrett, were discussion group leaders on the program.

M. F. Ashley Montagu, chairman of the department of anthropology of Rutgers university, was the main speaker of the day. He dealt primarily with the need for genuine love in human affairs, and its relation to prejudice and understanding.

Local students attending the conference were Janann Jarrett, Janet Seigel, Randy Thomas, Marilyn Behrens, JoAnn Falkanger, John Lee, Sue Sigwalt, Barbara Day, and Caroline Osborne.

Two Church Groups to Be Entertained With Play by Talent Bank

Rehearsals will soon be underway for the play, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," to be given twice in December by members of the talent bank of the Village Theatre of Arlington Heights.

Tryouts were held Thursday night, following the regular Village Theatre meeting at the field house. Mrs. G. E. Staahl will direct the show.

Since the tale appeared in opera and book form only, Mrs. Robert Hawley, another Village Theatre member, received special permission from the publishers to write the dramatization of the theme which the talent bank will present. "Amahl and the Night Visitors" is a fairy tale centering around the story of the journey of Three Kings to Bethlehem, their seeking a night's lodging at the lowly shepherd's hut of the crippled Amahl and his poverty stricken mother, and the dramatic events that follow.

Mrs. Robert Bishop, chairman of the talent bank, said the play will be given at the Methodist church December 8 and at the Presbyterian church December 12.

Dr. Winters Speaks Tonight

Dr. Carl Winters will speak to parents, other residents of the community and guests tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. His talk is sponsored by the Mothers' club.

He has been highly recommended by everyone who has heard him, and favorable comments about him were reported by Assistant County Superintendent, Miss Lucy Driscoll; Board Attorney Paul Collins; ex-principal Robert Winkle, and Principal Dennis Malcolmson, in a letter sent home to parents earlier this week. They were unanimous in naming Dr. Winters "top-notch, dynamic and forceful."

School Closed

There will be no school next Tuesday afternoon. Classes will end at 12 o'clock that day so that teachers will have a chance to confer with many of the parents during that afternoon.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday of next week due to Thanksgiving.

Parent Conferences

Teachers will be holding 10 minute conferences next week and during the week after Thanksgiving with parents of children in their rooms.

Slips sent home with each child should be returned to indicate whether or not a parent will attend the conference at the time assigned or if she wants a change in hour or day.

Mothers' Club News

More than 30 students had health exams given by Dr. Raag. This was under the sponsorship of the health committee of the club.

A panel of club officers and the principal took part in last Thursday's program of the monthly meeting. Dr. Novak of the TB institute was the guest, and the panel was asked questions relative to the subject and then he gave the facts.

Fourth grades put on two musical numbers, one centered around a trombonist.

A Book fair will be held the day and evening of December 9 at the school.

School Health Meeting

A school health meeting will be held November 30 at 8 p.m. at the Elk Grove school auditorium. Participants will be all teachers, board members, and Mothers' clubs' health committees of schools in this area.

Begin Basketball

Mr. Schulze has installed new metal basketball backboards on the rear parking lot. They were purchased by the student council. Team tryouts will be held soon.

Paper Drive

Members of the eighth grade will conduct a paper drive this week end. Parents and students may bring their paper to school any time up to and including next Tuesday. All paper, magazines, etc., must be tied with strong string or rope.

Those unable to bring paper to school may make an appointment for it to be picked up by truck at their home.

Elk Grove Community To Hear Dr. Winters Speak Thursday

Members of the Elk Grove school community and their friends have been invited to hear Dr. Carl Winters, pastor of the First Baptist church of Oak Park and an outstanding speaker, tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. at the school.

Dr. Winters is a subject of universal praise to all who have heard him speak. He is dynamic and forceful, according to Principal Dennis Malcolmson, and presents a well thought out and meaningful message.

A prominent speaker not only in Chicago and suburbs but throughout the country, Dr. Winters has spoken to groups numbering in the thousands. Elk Grove Mothers' club, sponsors of the program, is proud to be able to offer him at their parents' night. They invite every one interested to attend. The program is free of charge. (acmd-f

Feehanville School

I should like to devote part of this week's column to speak for the mothers of Feehanville school children in thanking our cook, Mrs. Paul Kleeman, for the wonderful, motherly method she employs in making the hot lunch program the success it is.

She has done a great deal, while in charge, to provide a healthy, adequate, yet appetizing lunch, and encourages the youngsters to eat more than they ordinarily would if not urged by worried mothers.

Our words of thanks are a long time in coming, Mrs. Kleeman, but we hope you know how all your efforts are appreciated.

We have a great many more facilities available to us in Feehanville, than those offered in larger, newer schools. A happy, cooperative relationship, exists between the teachers, the members of the PTA, and the school board. As it is everyone's foremost wish to have a perfect school, I should say, we have a better than average opportunity to secure for our children, the highest educational standard and a most advantageous future.

Scout News

The Intermediate Girl scouts invested two new scouts at their last meeting. The four fly-ups of several weeks ago, Sharon Anderson, Mary Arkell, Barbara Zapatka and Kathie Kirste, took part in the candle-lighting ceremony with the two new Girl scouts, Janet Ramsey, and Judy Munson.

The whole troop joined in singing "The Promise" song, and "Girl Scouts Together" before closing the meeting.

Social

Thursday the Forest River church held its third annual banquet. The guests were treated to a delicious pre-Thanksgiving dinner, followed by the evening's entertainment, which was introduced by the toastmaster, Michael Green, youth director of the Chicago Gospel tabernacle.

Miss Mary Oprisa of the Judson Baptist church delighted everyone with her lovely vocal selections and Fred Heyn and Chapman Ring, students at the Moody Bible institute, originally from the Church of the Air, Billings, Mont., gave an entertaining solo in voice and saxophone.

Miss Ruth Pierson of the Forest River church assisted them at the piano, and also accompanied the group singing later in the evening.

William Jack Layman was the speaker for the evening, and the guest of honor was the Rev. Bob Swanson, lovingly known as "Pastor Bob." Pastor Bob is the brother of Mrs. William Martens of Forest River.

Before saying good-bye till next week, I'd like to submit to my readers an amusing bit of poetry that I feel will produce a smile.

INNOCENCE ABROAD

My boy was innocent and pure,
Knew nothing really bad,
Until—of this I'm very sure—
He met the neighbor lad.
The neighbor lad's the wicked one,
The thorn upon the vine.
How strange, my neighbors think their son,
Learned what he knows from mine!

Local Insurance Brokers Organize Association

An association for the benefit of the insurance buyer has been organized in Arlington Heights.

The charter members, Catherine L. Behrens, Victor H. Beisler and Clarence A. Hendrickson, have long felt the need for this type of service and will formally be known as the Association of Insurance Consultants. Non-profit incorporation papers have been filed with the State of Illinois.

The purpose of the association is to offer a professional service to the community and to any individual, company, corporation, municipality board or other organization; whether private or public, in regards to the appraisal and analysis of their individual insurance needs.

Abandon Barrington Registrar's Office

Barrington's department of vital statistics went out of business when village clerk Helen R. Boyd, registrar for the bureau of statistics of the state department of public health, turned over records of her office.

The move was to conform to a 1947 act of the legislature. The legislature decreed all districts showing less than 300 entries annually be consolidated into a larger district.

Barrington birth and death records were moved to a branch office of the Cook county department of health at Des Plaines.

Costs $1500 for Auto License in Formosa

If you're thinking of registering your car in Formosa for 1954, better take a second look at your bank account before starting the process, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier advised today.

If you are paying a $17 a year license fee in Illinois, the fee for you, an American, for the same car in Formosa would be $1,500 a year. That's right! No decimal point.

Keep Candles Cold

Your gas refrigerator is an excellent place to store candles. It keeps them straight and when chilled prevents dripping. To clean candles, dampen cloth with alcohol and rub them. This keeps them looking nice.

Post 707-Troop 7 Overnight

While on troop 7's overnight camping trip at Camp Baden-Powell Post 707 was called upon to render services to the county in fighting a forest fire in the vicinity. Troop 963 of Chicago helped fight the blaze too. After fighting the blaze for 4 hours, the scouts finally extinguished it. This is just another example of good scouting service to the community and nation.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

One of my favorite desserts for Thanksgiving dinner is a Pumpkin Chiffon pie. Pumpkin is traditional for this holiday meal, and this pie appeals to my family because it is light and does not leave you with that over-stuffed feeling.

The pie can be topped with whipped cream, and for a unique touch it can be served with little cheese pumpkins. To make these pumpkins, roll American cheese into small balls. Fashion grooves with a knife, and use cloves for the stems.

This is one of the best recipies I have found for a pumpkin chiffon pie. Hope you enjoy it as much as we do.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

3 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
1¼ cups cooked or canned pumpkin
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 stiffly-beaten egg whites
½ cup sugar
1 nine-inch baked pastry shell

Beat egg yolks and ½ cup sugar until thick; add pumpkin, milk, salt and spices. Cook in double boiler until thick.

Add gelatin which has been softened in cold water; stir until gelatin dissolves.

Add egg whites beaten with remaining ½ cup sugar. Pour into baked shell and chill.

If desired, top with sweetened whipped cream.

State Garden Clubs To Hold Yule Show

The 1953 Chicago Flower show, "Christmas of Song and Story," will be presented by The Garden Club of Illinois November 28 through December 1 in the exhibition hall of The Palmer House.

Since 1927, when The Garden Club of Illinois presented its first Chicago Flower show, it has been given at different season of the year, usually in the spring. Two years ago, the first Christmas show was presented and it proved so popular that it was decided to give another Christmas Show this year.

There will be arrangements of many kinds suitable for many types of interiors. Door decoration, both exterior and interior, will be eagerly studied by the homemaker. Wreaths and garlands of many interesting materials will hold suggestions for everyone interested in clever and artistic Christmas decoration.

One of the features of the show will be a lecture December 1 from 1:30 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. on "Flower Arrangements" with John Welter and Fred P. Stebel, arrangers, and Tommy Bright as commentator. Miss Bright is one of the most colorful personalities as well as one of the foremost authorities on design in the floral field and was for many years director of Bright's School of Design. John Welter and Fred P. Stebel are nationally recognized as arrangers and florists. This lecture will be free to visitors to the show.

The Chicago Flower show holds a unique place among the major flower shows of the United States. It is the only flower show of national importance that is staged and managed by the women of the garden clubs themselves and the only one that is completely amateur.

Three Palatine Garden clubs, Inverness, Palanois Park and Plum Grove, will have exhibits at the show. Mrs. Henry Howland is chairman of the Inverness group which will enter interior door decoration; Mrs. Allen Wick is chairman of the Palanois Park group which will enter plaques featuring dried arrangements, and Mrs. W. H. Kruse is chairman of the Pium Grove group which will enter the interpretive arrangement class.

Tickets for the show may be obtained in advance from members of local garden clubs and from the Garden Club of Illinois office in the Palmer House at $1. Admission at the door is $1.25.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Divine beauty, form, outline and color, can be viewed only through the lens of Spirit. How to pierce the mist of materiality so that man and the universe can be seen in their true spiritual reflection, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 22. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be SOUL AND BODY.

The Golden Text is from Matthew (6:22) "The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"And Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven: And he said . . . But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?" (I Kings 8: 22, 27).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Science reveals Spirit, Soul, as not in the body, and God as not in man but as reflected by man. The greater cannot be in the lesser. The belief that the greater can be in the lesser is an error that works ill. This is a leading point in the Science of Soul, that Principle is not in its idea" (p. 467).

Barrington Turns Down Tank-Pump Plan on Gas

The Barrington village board has decided to abandon plans to install a gasoline storage tank and pump at the disposal station for the purpose of purchasing gas in tank wagon lots to service village cars.

Trustee Bailey Sutfin, chairman of that committee, informed the board the committee thought it would take too long to recover the cost of the tank-pump installation from the small savings to be made by buying gas in bulk.

An offer of one concern to make the installation without cost to the village if given an exclusive contract to furnish all gasoline used in municipal vehicles was not considered, Sutfin said, because it was thought inadvisable to obligate the village to a single firm for a long period.

Grading has begun for the proposed black top court on the east side of the school. Thanks is extended to those who have suported the efforts of the Community club in this worthy project. Their next party will be December 5 at the school.

The next PTA meeting will be one week later than usual, and the business meeting will be dispensed with in favor of a Christmas program put on by the school children.

This unseasonable weather has probably lured all of us automobile drivers into false security, but if we don't have our cars checked for safe winter driving we will be very sorry when we wake up some morning in the near future with car trouble. The employees of Winkelman's Tire and Battery Shop, 115 E. Davis st., are specialists in radiator, battery and heater work. So why not let them put your car in shape for safe, easy winter driving?

You'll also find a complete selection of transportation for the younger set at Winkelman's. There are three sizes of Schwinn bicycles, three wheel bikes, scooters, fire engines, hobby horses, chuck wagons and many others. A brilliantly trimmed Christmas tree just seems to put the finishing touches on the whole holiday season and the tree is the pride and joy of the whole family for many weeks. You'll be amazed at the variety and quality of the Christmas tree ornaments now available at Hagenbring's. There you'll find eight foot long tree chains, American and German ornaments in myriads of shapes and colors, and all the other necessary trimmings for your Christmas tree. The German imported ornaments remind one of those gorgeous ornaments we prized so before the last world war. There are angels, santa clauses, umbrellas, boats, candelabra and many other designs beautifully colored and decorated.

Nothing is possessed save in appreciation, of which thankfulness is the indispensable ingredient.

ELA-VERNON RATES FOUR PICKS ON NORTHWEST ALL-STARS

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

BASKETBALL is underway with the Northwest Conference schedule opening next Wednesday, the night before Thanksgiving. Most of the schools will play games this coming weekend to prepare their teams for the league openers.

Locally, Bensenville will open at home against Ela-Vernon. Palatine will travel to Grayslake, Glenbrook will open at Antioch, and Grant will be host to Wauconda.

In the Northwest conference the coaches, in a questionaire sent out last week, pick Antioch to repeat with Grant second, Wauconda third, and Ela-Vernon, fourth. Glenbrook is the big question mark as no juniors or seniors at their school have had enough varsity experience to mention. Glenbrook will be exceptionally strong in the frosh-soph division, but the varsity is a doubtful and unknown quantity.

TO ALL INDICATIONS the league will be better balanced, but on the average, weaker than a year ago. Antioch with Ben Floyd, all-conference center as a soph, and Larry Lass a six-foot-one forward who was coming strong at the end of the season, would seem to lack material, but they have an undefeated sophomore five moving up to the varsity. These boys who give Coach Dick Scott the edge again this year, are Mike Haviland, Warren Brownlee, Fred Clarke, Jack Palmer, Dave Cain, and Chuck Davis. Antioch will probably repeat, but will have a lot tougher time going through undefeated.

Grant had an excellent sophomore forward, Bob Bein, on their varsity last year and with Bill Grenell and a flock of other experienced boys figure to give Antioch the most opposition.

Wauconda finished at the bottom, but have a whole team returning with Dennis Punches 5-10 and Harold Bass 6-0 at guards; Tom Nolan 6-2 at center, and Bob Hecht 6-2 and Gene Jaskot, a soph 6-1, at forwards. Height and experience should be the assets to help Wauconda make the first division.

ELA-VERNON has only one regular ball player in 5-10 guard, Don Prouty, but Glen Chaffin 6-2, Jim Hilbun 5-10, and Don Fenner 6-0 saw some action. In addition, Ela had a rangy second place frosh-soph team to provide the needed varsity material.

Palatine might have a strong team if "Tinker" Meyer, one of the best in the league, can get into action in the next month. Meyer was hurt at Antioch in football and doctors will still allow only limited basket shooting practice. It would be Meyer's third year as a regular.

Coach Moylan has Pete Abramson 6-1 forward who was a regular and Bill Breyer 6-4 center who saw much action near the end of the season and won a letter. Larry Hapke and Roger Kolze, squad member guards last year and Alan Eck from last year's sophs, are the best prospects.

BENSENVILLE has one of the high scorers of the conference returning in six-foot-two-inch Bert Heuer. Billy Long, a six foot regular forward, will help give the Bisons a good offense. The question will be guards from the soph team to fill the gaps left by departing stars.

Grayslake has four regulars and might be a first division team though they are short on height. Returning are Ron Christen 5-9 guard, Jay Hook six foot center, Wally Giernoth 5-10 forward. Pat Rooney will coach the basketball this year.

This year, as they use the new gym for the first time, Palatine High will honor at various times during the season the championship teams of past years. The first champs of 1926-27 will be guests and introduced at the dedication games with Dundee Friday night.

December 19 when West Aurora plays at Palatine the team of 1930-31 will be given recognition. On January 22 when Wauconda plays at Palatine, Carl Megel and the boys on his teams which took the titles in 1933-34 and 1934-35 will be invited to attend the game and be introduced to the spectators. Late in the season, the teams which took four straight championships with but two defeats in the years 1940 through 1943 will be honored.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS football team had the right idea last week when squad members selected the most valuable player for the year. No, they didn't automatically select the one who'd gained the most headlines, nor the most touchdowns, nor did they use any such obvious ways to pick the top man.

They selected Dick Winterbauer by secret ballot, rating all members of the team on nine points that make the ideal football player. Foremost of these, and worth 20 of 100 points, was attitude toward the coach.

Other eight points were willingness to learn, knowledge of the game, sportsmanship, dependability, leadership, cooperation with players, manners off the field and observing training rules. Players graded all members of the squad. Ranking high with Winterbauer were Don Hoth, Denny Maher and John Milnamow, though not in that order.

IN HIS LAST YEAR as athletic director of York high school is Clarence East. Clarence has announced retirement next spring, though he'll remain track coach for a while, and teach mathematics. Since 1920 when the school was formed, East coached swimming one year, baseball four, basketball nine and football 19 seasons.

His track teams won seven West Suburban titles, nine district titles, two state championships. His football squads were champs four times.

Clarence was a half miler in his own day, but he's had four state winners in the 440, three in the shot, one in the discus. He's also had state halfmile relay winners. Clarence rates "Bud" DeMoss, presently at Illinois, his greatest sprinter.

LOOKING OVER THE RECORDS in the conference since Palatine started playing as a charter member in 1925, we find the Pirates have won eight varsity championships in basketball, of which four were ties, four undisputed, and four undefeated.

The Pirates have won three seconds and 10 thirds, finishing third or better in 21 of the 28 seasons.

Palatine has won 231 games while losing 112 in the 28 years of Northwest Conference basketball. During this time there have been only five coaches: Harry Kincaid 1925-31; Carl Megel 1931-35; Gerald McElroy 1935-44; J. E. Stutzman 1944-51, and Eugene Moylan since 1951. Up to 1941-42 when J. E. Stutzman became lightweight basketball coach, the varsity coach had handled both groups. Palatine took lightweight firsts in 1933-34, 1937-38, 1940-41, 1841-42, 1942-43, and a frosh-soph

Palatine Host To Dundee Friday In Gym Dedication

AL WILLIS

Palatine will formally dedicate the new gym Friday night with the great basketball school, Dundee, on hand to provide the opposition. Dundee's strength is unknown but the Cardunals have not had a weak team in the last 25 or more seasons Gene DeLacey has been at the helm.

The Cards will have had only six practices prior to the Palatine set-to and that may help even the edge they usually hold over Palatine teams.

Coach DeLacey was heard to state his team would not be able to put up as good a game as Hampshire did at Palatine last Friday. He, along with a number of other coaches, watched Palatine lose to Hampshire, which had been practicing since October 1.

AL WILLIS, executive secretary of the Illinois high school association will, in a few brief remarks, officially dedicate the gym between halves of the varsity game. The board of education, the first champ team of 1926-27, and a number of guests and persons prominent in the planning of the building will be introduced.

Just before the start of the varsity game the chamber of commerce will make a presentation to the school for the occasion, and the varsity teams, coaches, and the game officials will be introduced with the national anthem following.

ACCOMMODATIONS are being prepared to handle 2,000 spectators. The new rollaway bleachers for the west gym shelf have not arrived as promised and football stands are erected in their place. A section of park bleachers will be placed on the main floor to help the seating situation.

The new ushers club directed by Eldon Naffziger in grey and maroon uniforms will help direct the crowd and members of the fire department who have volunteered their services will help watch exits and maintain order. The fire department will furnish four uniformed men on duty at each of Palatine's home games, a service that the school authorities greatly appreciate.

Friday night the school band will be out in uniform to play under the direction of Milton Case.

Arlington Heights Little League Coaches To Meet

Adults wishing to help the Arlington Heights Little League baseball program next summer are reminded to appear at the organizational meeting Monday night, November 23, at the field house.

Forty-eight adults are needed to assure the town a complete program of six Little League, four Pony league and six Minor league teams. They will serve as managers, coaches, umpires, and help in other capacities.

WALLY GRACE, chairman of the team managers' committee, called the meeting for Monday night to give adults a chance to fill out application blanks indicating willingness to help the boys.

On the committee with Grace are Herb Carl and Russ Attis. Fathers unable to attend the meeting are asked to see any of these men, or Little League president Lloyd Taylor, for application blanks.

Meeting time is 7:30.

Bisons Have 2, Palatine None, On Mythical Team

Ela-Vernon's Northwest conference champs rated four selections on the all league team picked by the football coaches in a meeting last week Monday. Antioch and Glenbrook finishing second and third were each given one player on the all-star team. Grant in seventh place got one, and Bensenville who finished sixth and Grayslake last, were each honored with two first team positions.

No fourth place Palatine or fifth place Wauconda players gained first team berths.

Glen Chaffin of Ela-Vernon, leading scorer of the league with 38 points and Phil Vos of Antioch were named as first team ends. Chaffin and Vos were both fine pass catchers and very good defensive ends. Chaffin averaged 39.2 yards for the season as Ela's punter in 22 boots to give the champs a big advantage in this department. This mark is probably a conference record. Vos scored three touchdowns on passes and was one of Antioch's best blockers.

AT TACKLES Jerl May, a giant six foot three 195 pound junior at Glenbrook, and Finley Kennel, a repeater from last year playing for Grant, were the selections. May was the star of a very strong Glenbrook line both on defense and offense. Kennel was selected to a guard position a year ago and Grant reports that he is top student in the senior class in scholar ship.

One guard selection is Wally Giernoth, a 190 pound senior at Grayslake, who was injured at the beginning of the season but saw full action on both offense and defense by midseason. Giernoth was a second team choice a year ago. Claude Vondruska, rated by Coach Tom Meneguin as his top lineman on both offense and defense, got the other guard spot. Von Druska stands only 5'6" but weighs 185. He was the leader of the spirited Bensenville team.

JACK GROSS of ElaVernon was the center selection. Gross played only on offense and is a 170 pound senior standing six feet tall. He was rated as most consistent in the league at the pivot position.

Jay Hook of Grayslake, a six foot one senior weighing 175, got the quarterback position on the recommendation of his coach Pat Rooney that he was the best all round back in the conference.

Eugene Benhart was rated by Tom Meneguin as one of the best backfield men Bensenville has had in recent years. A midget at only 130 pounds and five feet seven tall, Benhart was a triple threat back excelling as an open field runner passer and pass receiver. Playing behind a weak line Ben hart had limited opportunity to show his real ability.

ALONG WITH Benhart at halfback the selection was Dan Gudgeon of Ela-Vernon, a back who made a lot of breakaway long runs for his team. Gudgeon is one of the fastest track men in the conference.

Don Prouty was a second team choice at fullback last year and was a consistent performer in every game. Last year he did all of Ela's passing and this year when Don Fenner took over this department Prouty continued to do just enough to mix up the opposition. Prouty was a top blocker, a hard line plunger, and an excellent competitor.

Ten Lettermen In Wrestling At Arlington

Ten lettermen have reported to Coach Dick Mudge for the Arlington Heights wrestling squad, but that doesn't necessarily mean a good year for the Cardinal and White. They're still 15 meets to go with the first one against Riverside-Brookfield still almost a month away.

And number one casualty of the season is John Milnamow who broke an ankle tendon in football and won't be seeing any action for some time. Boys who are back with Mudge include Dave Brant and Bill Schaeffer, state finals competitors last year, Bruce Wilkerson, Floyd Burns, Mike Deschner, Vic Carlino, Dick Hengel, Ken Bredfeld, Charley Turke, Wally Mulso.

WRESTLING is just one step away from a West Suburban league sport with the entry of Downers Grove onto the mats. Only Glenbard remains out of grappling competition to keep the sport from being recognized by the conference.

Fifty-five boys are out for the sport this year at Heights, with none of them slated to be cut except for disciplinary reasons. Assisting Mudge with this large group is Arley Fender, University of Illinois practice teacher spending six weeks at AHHS. He'll direct the frosh-sophs while at Arlington.

THE "A" CLUB provided a cover for the new 24x24 mat recently purchased for the grapplers. The cover is a substantial item and a necessary part of equipment. The locals now have two 24x24 mats, and one 20x20. Practices are held in the foyer of the new gym, as before.

Last year the Card wrestlers won eight of 15 matches, with victories over Maine and Riverside the only league wins. Other victories were over McHenry, Leyden, Palatine, Niles and Zion-Benton. Losses were to LaGrange, Riverside, York, Hinsdale, Waukegan, Elgin and Evanston.

Heights Cagers In Full Practice With Downers Opener For Dec. 4

Season reserved seat tickets for the nine basketball doubleheaders will go on sale Friday morning at Arlington Heights high school, and at Millay's newsstand, with $9.00 assuring fans the same seats at all games, regardless of when they get to the gym.

The new 4,000 seat gym is in its second complete year of operation and will again provide Heights cage enthusiasts with the opportunity to see plenty of basketball action this year, including state champ LaGrange Friday, December 11. First game is December 4 against Downers Grove on the Heights floor.

ADMISSION prices to all Arlington games are 80c for adults, 50c for children. Businessmen and others unable or not wishing to see the preliminary games, but wanting a centrally located seat for the varsity contests, can reserve their seat by purchasing a season reserved seat ducat for just $9.00.

THIRTY-TWO boys are practicing with Coach Howard Lester sticking to fundamentals all this week. He's beginning to type the group with regard to what they can or cannot do, and will probably select certain fives early next week.

Three lettermen now working out with Lester include Bob Turner, George Skelton and Roger Thomas. All of the squad has shown a willingness to work and a good attitude

Prospects are doubtful at this time. With most of last year's starters gone, Coach Lester will have to rely heavily on Maher, Mueller and Riggs, up from the co-champ frosh-soph team last year.

Coach Maurice Klotz will again direct the frosh-soph cagers. He's already made a cut and has 19 boys still working out. Three boys back from the first six for Klotz are Wayne Brumm, John Theis, Wayne Malzahn.

Don Drever Named Captain Of Harriers

Don Drever was elected captain of the Arlington Heights cross country team by members of the squad as Coach Russ Attis' boys hung up their suits after completing the best season in history for the school.

The harriers won six of nine duals, took third in the district, fourth in the West Suburban conference meet. Two of the first six runners will be back next year, including Ray Hornbostel and John Sheppard. Seniors included Randy Thomas, Bob Rankine, Dave Ryden and Don Drever.

ARLINGTON scored four firsts in the nine duals, with John Sheppard garnering three of them in a row. Average team score for the duals was 22.1, enough to win all meets.

Don Drever took top honors for best record when he was assessed just 27 points for an average 3.3 finish for the year's duals. Other points and average finishes were Dave Ryden, 31, 3.4; John Sheppard, 32, 3.5; Bob Rankine, 51, 5.6; Randy Thomas, 57, 6.3, Ray Hornbostel, 88, 9.6.

Western Specialty Dog Show at Navy Pier

The Western Specialty show to be held this coming Sunday at Navy Pier in Chicago has brought out a rather large entry from many of the breed clubs which are entered.

Tops on the list is the Mid-West boxer club with an entry of 182 dogs, followed by the Chihuahua club, whose president Mrs. Tressa Thurmer of Palatine, advises there are some 164 of the small dogs entered.

14 Games For Arlington Frosh

A combination frosh and junior-varsity basketball schedule for Arlington was released this week by athletic director Wally Grace. Fourteen games are on the card for the first year boys, nine for the varsity reserves.

Opening contests are set for December 5 at Palatine for the freshmen. Two days later both frosh and JVs travel to Barrington. Coaching the frosh this year is Carl Nelson with 45 boys working out. The JVs are being handled along with the varsity by Heights' new coach, Howard Lester.

Palatine Drops Opening Cage Games To Hampshire

Palatine high opened the basketball season Friday night exactly seven days after the last football game and lost a double bill to Hampshire, a school which does not play the gridiron sport. The varsity came up against a rather sharp team for a season opener and lost 69-53. The frosh-sophs put up a good battle all the way and dropped a last minute 43-40 decision.

The games opened the new Palatine gym with approximately 1,000 persons in attendance.

Melms, Hampshire's leading scorer, dropped in four set shots over the Palatine zone defense in the opening quarter to help pull the visitors out in front 18-11 and Palatine never again threatened. The Pirates' shooting from both the field and free throw line was still not up to par due to lack of practice. At one time in the second quarter Hampshire hit five shots in a row and took a commanding lead of 33-20 at the intermission. Pete Abramson and Roger Kolze led a late rally to reduce a 22 point lead to 16.

MELMS, REID, and White scored 19, 16 and 15 points respectively for Hampshire's veteran team. Pete Abramson who did not play football had his eye and made nine from the field and three out of four free throws for 21 points. Roger Kolze looked good at guard as a ball handler and hit four good length field goals in 12 tries. Palatine made 20 from the field in 74 shots and 13 out of 33 free throws.

Six weeks practice against one week was too much of a handicap for the Palatine boys but they got some good game experience which should help for the Dundee game coming up Friday night.

Palatine frosh-sophs were in the ball game all the way after the first period but could never gain a lead on Hampshire though tying the visitors on numerous occasions. The count was 22 all at the half and 30 all going into the final period. Palatine tied the score with less than a minute to play but Nash got a field goal and free throw to win in a thrilling finish for Hampshire 43-40.

Kolze, Pete Trenchard, and Jeff Lehman looked good for Palatine with Kolze topping the Palatine scoring with 12 points. Block had 16 for Hampshire.

Favor LaGrange (Who Else) West Suburban Cage

That LaGrange is favored to repeat as West Suburban league cage champion is the easiest prediction any sports writer can make at this point.

The Lions were state champs last year, they have six of the first ten back, eleven lettermen are out for practice, three of them six-six or better.

What more could any coach ask? Only qualification is that LaGrange was liberal with letters last year, due to the state title march.

MAINSTAYS back for the Lions include towering Ted Caiazza, Chuck Sedgwick, Harold Caffey and Joe Lawlor all who showed well in the state tournament last spring. Other lettermen include Dave McKeag and Russ Blake at 6'6", Wayne Kennedy at 6'3", Willie Johnston at 6'1", Ron DeSantis and John Pendexter at 6', and Phil Brooks at 5'11".

Last year LaGrange won all 29 games. Gone is Coach Greg Sloan, who now receives his checks from Rich township high school. Les Glick is handling the varsity, with Art Sandusky the frosh-sophs. The younger boys finished in third in league play last year with a 9-5 mark.

Opening game is at New Trier November 21.

Ben Grandy Sank Title Winning Basket Over Antioch In 1927

As Palatine prepares to dedicate its spacious new gymnasium Friday evening the older fans of the community look back to the early days of Pirate basketball in the Northwest conference and the difference in the playing facilities that were available. Seips Hall, now the old theatre part of the building which houses Foster's Economy Store, was the scene of many thrilling games in the late twenties. It was there that Palatine won its first conference championship in the spring of 1927 the second year that the Northwest Conference was in operation.

The team which brought the first cage glory to Palatine will be introduced as the first event on Friday's dedication program. The team consisted of Captain Herman Gieske, forward; Louis Reuse forward; Howard Smith, center; Ben Grandy, guard; and Robert Deverman, guard. Substitutes were Royal Dreyer, Dalton Kruse, and Myron Helgeson. This team had a 10-2 conference record in the 1926-27 season and an overall record of 18 victories and seven defeats for the season.

They tied with Antioch for the championship by beating their rivals in the final conference game at Seips Hall 22-20.

IN THAT GAME in which neither team ever had more than a three point lead the score was tied at 20 all with a half minute to play. Then Ben Grandy shot a basket from the center of the court to sew up the game and the conference title. That basket has been the talk of the old timers of Palatine ever since. Due to the very low ceiling in the hall such a shot was next to impossible for anyone but Grandy.

The Pirates in that season had double wins over Arlington Heights, Barrington, Bensenville, Libertyville, Leyden and Wauconda among the neighboring schools. A victory over Wauconda by a score of 8-7 is in contrast to the present top heavy scoring. The worst beating handed anyone that season was a 47-7 win over Bensenville.

Antioch beat Palatine, 28-26, in their first meeting and two more times in tournaments. Warren of Gurnee handed Palatine its other league defeat by a count of 30-14 but Palatine later got revenge by a 28-10 score on the home court.

BEN GRANDY, hero of the Antioch game, and Harrison Kincaid, coach of the team, are both dead. Kincaid, who started Palatine's winning ways in basketball as coach from 1925-31, was a popular science teacher and Boy Scout leader as well as coach. He piloted Palatine to another championship in 1930-31 before going to teach in Chicago's Crane Tech high school.

Kincaid continued to live in Palatine and was always a leader in civic affairs and any projects which would better the community, and especially the opportunities for boys and girls. Kincaid and his athletes and boy scouts had a lot to do with the community getting the new high school in 1928. He later served as president of the high school board until going into the service in World War II where he attained the rank of Major. Kincaid died suddenly of a heart attack in 1949.

Dachshund Wins Top Honors in Obedience Trials at St. Charles

A tiny Dachshund, only 1½ years old, walked off with top honors at the Fox Valley Kennel club obedience trials held at St. Charles Sunday.

The dog, Trinka of Dogpatch, is owned and trained by Marilyn O'Donnell of Palatine. Trinka scored 199½ points out of a possible 200, and competed against 308 other dogs in the all breed show.

Trinka won highest score in the Dachshund trials, highest score in the hound trials and first place in the novice B class, and ended up with the highest score in the dog show. This is the first time a Dachshund has won such honors in an all breed show. She received four trophies and a blue ribbon.

Mrs. O'Donnell is one of the charter members in the newly organized Northwest Obedience Dog club of Palatine.

Hawks Lose To Kansas City Team 59-54

The Kansas City Stars clowned their way to 59-44 victory over the Wheeling Blackhawks last Saturday night at the Arlington Heights high school gym. Paced by Fred Peason and Globetrotter veteran Duke Cumberland, the Stars put on an exhibition of artistic basketball and funny antics which left the locals baffled and pleased a good sized crowd.

In the individual scoring department, Kansas City was led by Pearson, who connected for 7 field goals good for 14 points. Cumberland was runner-up with 12 markers. Gene and Vic Lesch led the locals with 9 and 8 points respectively.

WHEN THE NORTHWEST coaches picked their all-conference football team last week they did right well by Ela-Vernon, with four picks, but they left off two of the champs' three best men when they failed even to give honorable mention to Don Fenner, the team leader, passer, linebacker, and most valuable player at quarterback; and Curley Weber, the best blocker and defensive man in the strongest defensive line in the league. But then, as we stated a week ago, there were too many boys who were about on a par to pick a team this year that would be fair to all concerned.

Hunting Season a Pain to Police and Property Owners

Lots of people are happy because the hunting season for pheasants is opened. But then there are lots of people who aren't happy about it.

The sheriff's police report a flood of calls from irate citizens in Cook county outside of Chicago. It seems that the hunters aren't all shooting where they're supposed to.

The suburbanites complain hunters are shooting in incorporated areas where they aren't supposed to. And they are also shooting on other people's farms and near homes.

Lt. Howard Leeds, of the Milwaukee ave. station says the calls came in so fast there were not enough squad cars to answer all of them. Many persons refused to give their names over the phone and the officers had difficulty in finding the hunters about whom the complaint was made. He says where owners did not "post" their property police hands are tied. Even a small bunch of weeds seem to whet the appetite of anxious hunters who hope to find a pheasant somewhere.

The sheriff's deputies say that they aren't against hunting itself. They just wish the hunters would do their shooting in the right places.

Calls started coming in at 10:30 a.m. November 11, although the season did not officially open until 12 noon. Teen-agers apprehended were taken to the juvenile home. Adults have been released on $25 bond each and their weapons confiscated.

Immanuel Leading PAM Dart Ball League

Immanuel	11	7
Faith	10	5
St. Paul	8	10
St. Peter	7	8
St. John	5	10

Immanuel of Palatine still leads the PAM Lutheran dartball league. In last week's play they beat St. Peter three games by scores of 5-3, 4-2 and 6-5. In the first game O. Michaelis had four hits in four at bats. In the third game W. Landmeier had four for four.

Top hitters for the three games were O. Michaelis, Palatine, 7 for 12; A. Kehe, Arlington, 8 for 15; W. Landmeier, Arlington, 7 for 12.

In the games between Faith of Arlington and St. John's of Elk Grove, Faith won the first by a score of 5 to 3. St. John won the second 7 to 5 and Faith won the third by a score of 6 to 4.

Top hitters in these games were R. Niemeyer, Faith, 9 hits in 12 at bat and F. Hammer for St. John with 6 hits in 12 at bat.

Blackhawks Say Thanks

The Wheeling Blackhawk management would like to express their sincere thanks to all the wonderful fans that turned out for the Kansas City Stars-Blackhawk basketball game last Saturday evening. The 'Hawks would also like to take the opportunity to thank Walter Myers of the Hartmann House restaurant in Wheeling for the great services that he gave to make the game a big success. Other votes of thanks go to the various civic organizations which helped promote the game.

Caroline Sets Record In Spite Of Illini Loss

Illinois' sophomore halfback J. C. Caroline established a new Big Ten season rushing record at Madison Saturday, although he was held to his second-lowest yardage production of the year as the Badgers handed Illini their first loss.

Caroline netted 83 yards to bring his total for five conference games to 821. This surpasses the 774 yards accumulated by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche in seven 1951 contests. The additional 83 yards pushed Caroline's total for eight games to an amazing 1158 yards.

ILLINOIS' individual averages and team statistics, generally, took a beating in the Wisconsin game. Ironically, Illini showed improvement in two departments in which opponents have had an edge throughout the year — passing and yards lost by penalties. Only individual improvement was in Ken Miller's punting average, which jumped from 35.4 to 38.1 on strength of his 71-yard quick kick.

Fullback Stan Wallace continues to lead Illinois in rushing, but his average has dropped from 12.7 to 11.4. Caroline, with a 6.4 reading, is in second spot.

ELRY Kalkenstein's passing percentage dropped from .528 to .517, but he still is leading thrower. John Ryan held his lead in pass receiving, although he didn't catch an aerial against the Badgers.

As a team, Illinois continues to lead the cumulative output of opponents in practically every department, although the margin has been reduced. Illini lead 189-119 in total points, 135-109 in first downs, 2221-1364 in net yds. gained by rushing, 2840-2042 in total yards gained, and 513-447 in total plays.

Globetrotters At Stadium Nov. 27

Those scintillating nomads of the hardwood court — the Harlem Globetrotters — return to Chicago Stadium Friday night, Nov. 27, to headline a benefit double-header. Abe Saperstein's Negro magicians of basketball will take on a potent Washington (D.C.) Generals quintet in the second half of the bill, which also will feature the Trotters' coterie of added entertainment attractions.

Opening the bill at 8 o'clock will be an official national basketball association tilt between the star-studded Milwaukee Hawks and Philadelphia Warriors. Fans, who saw the Hawks take a three-overtime thriller from the Warriors on a Globetrotter card at the Stadium last year, know the type of action they will be in for when these two high-geared teams collide.

THE GLOBETROTTERS' great array of Reece ("Goose") Tatum, Ermer Robinson, Josh Grider, Clarence Wilson, Junius Kellogg, Willie Gardner and other razzle dazzle artists will be put to a hard test by the Generals. Now one of the finest traveling quintets in the business, the Generals have an imposing lineup of professional and former college aces, including Red Klotz of Villanova, Carl Meinhold of Long Island University, Bob Crosby and Lou Barous of Seton Hall, Joe Guthrie of Panzer College, Morton Stagoff of City College of New York and others.

Asserts TV Is Killing Boxing

Is television killing boxing? The verdict, almost without dissent, is "Yes," The Sporting News reports in a comprehensive article by Joe King. Yet, ironically, video is viewed as killing off the fight game while, at the same time, creating millions of new fans who follow the sport over the air waves.

When you flood the country with free fight pictures four times a week, few cash customers are going to pay to see a live bout in their own town. As a result, more and more fight clubs are going out of business, eliminating the arenas where young boxers—the kids on the way up—learn the mechanics of the manly art. There now are less than 100 small fight clubs left and only 1,500 licensed boxers against 7,000 ten years ago.

WITH THE OLD pros passing along and the kids unable to serve an apprenticeship, scientific boxing is fast disappearing. Instead, young fighters without seasoning are rushed into the ring for TV bouts. Woefully inadequate boxers are built up into synthetic "name" fighters. Even the new fans being created have no appreciation of fine workmanship, but know only the roundhouse swing of the air bouts.

The quality of the game is descending so rapidly that TV may be down to rock-bottom with totally unprepared kids in a few years. They will then go on as is, in "a sort of brand-new amateur hour."

JACK DEMPSEY, the former champion, believes that day already has arrived. The Manassas Mauler says:

"The way it is going, TV fighters are just another vaudeville act in a continuous movie to most folks. The more fights they put on the air, the worse they get, because there aren't enough fighters to make that many good matches."

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it all right for us to give a "house warming" for our friends to show off our new home?"

A. No. A "house warming" is an affair given by the friends of persons who have moved into a new home, and gifts are usually brought. One would not want to impose this obligation by inviting friends to bring gifts. Instead, one can give an "open house" which is simply an invitation to come and see one's new home and does not obligate the guests to bring gifts.

Q. Is it permissible for a business or professional woman, who marries, to retain her maiden name for business purposes?

A. Yes; this is often done, when the maiden name has become established and has advertising value.

Q. When a wedding is to be in the afternoon and the bride is to wear her going-away costume, what should her maid-of-honor wear?

A. An afternoon frock.

Q. What would be an appropriate letter of appreciation to write to a good friend who was very thoughtful at the time of one's bereavement?

A. Just be very simple and sincere, as, "When Mother passed away, you were very kind, Mrs. Barnes, and I want to thank you. Come to see me when you find time."

Q. Is the guest of honor supposed to be the first person to rise from the table at the end of a dinner?

A. No. The hostess is always the person who signalizes the end of a dinner by rising from her place.

Q. When someone whom you have just met says, "I am glad to have met you," isn't a smile in reply sufficient?

A. No, this would have a condescending air about it. It is much better to accompany the smile with a "Thank you."

Q. If a man, invited to a dinner, is unavoidably detained and arrives after the other guests are at the table, what should he do?

A. As soon as he has disposed of his wraps, he should go directly to his hostess, greet her, and offer sincere apologies.

Q. When a young man wishes to ask a girl for a date, is it all right to lead up to it by asking, "What are you doing Saturday evening?"

A. No; this is a very crude approach. Tell her you would like to take her to dinner or to a show Saturday evening.

Q. When a bride is extremely busy, isn't it all right if she waits for two or three weeks to acknowledge her gifts?

A. Never under any circumstances. Each gift should be acknowledged promptly, the same day received if possible.

THANKSGIVING

Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving; sing praise upon the harp unto our God.
—Psalms 147:7

On Thanksgiving Day no servile labor may be performed, and thanks should be offered for the increase and abundance of His fruits upon the face of the earth.
—Elizabeth I, Queen of England

Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more.
—Mary Baker Eddy

Every new discovery must necessarily raise in us a fresh sense of the greatness, wisdom, and power of God.

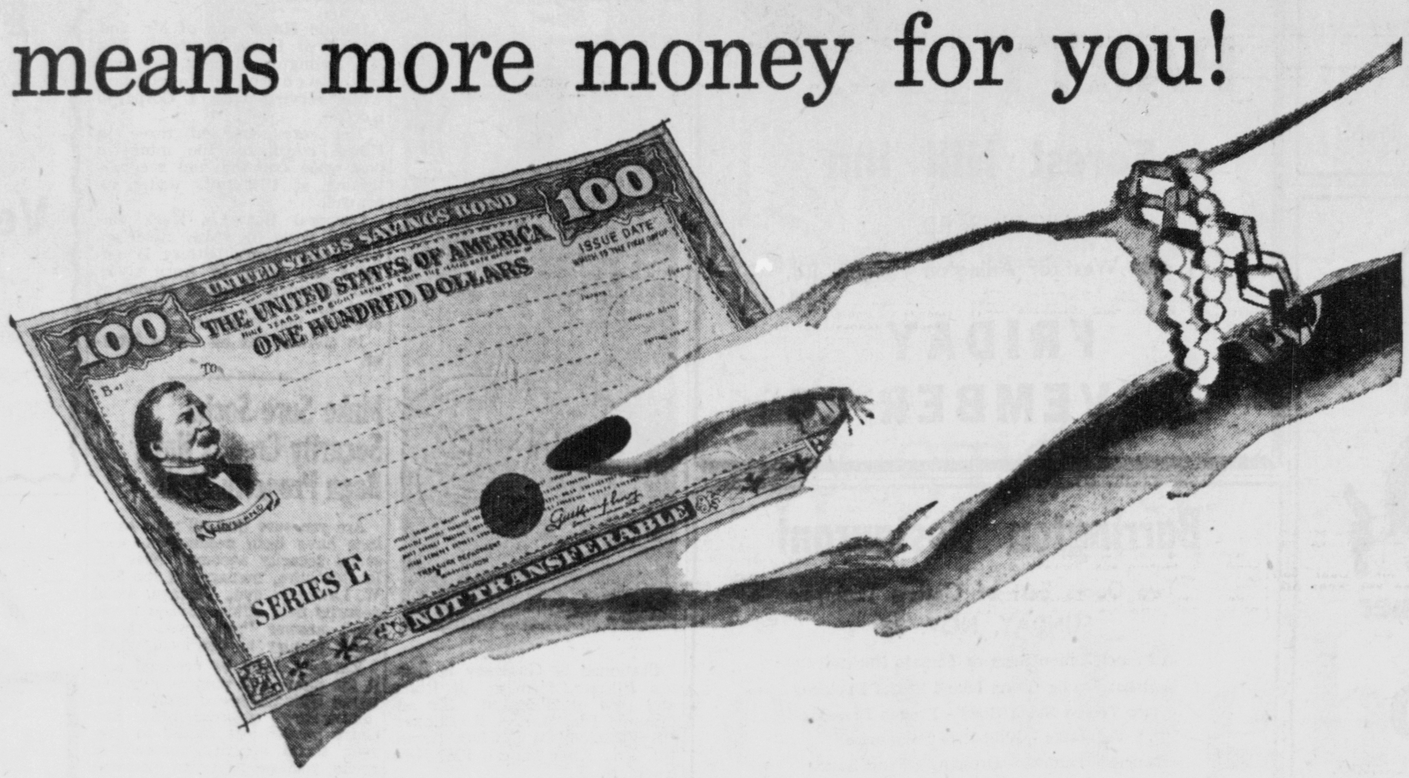
A Bond in the hand... means more money for you!



New law says:

Savings Bonds can earn interest for ten more years . . . at 3%!

Do you own U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that are maturing now? Then here's wonderful news: You can hold those Bonds for ten more years, while they continue to earn interest at a rate of 3% compounded semiannually!

Think what this means: The Bond you invested in at $18.75 can now pay you back $33.67 . . . a $37.50 Bond can pay you back $67.34 . . . and so on.

Yes, the new Bond Law makes it possible for you to get this extra profit (as much as 80% on your original investment!), with no extra effort on your part. No visit to the bank. Nothing to sign. Just hold your Bonds.

The ten-year extra earning privilege applies to all Bonds—those you already own and those you are investing in now. What's more, every Bond you get now starts earning interest sooner and matures earlier—at 3%. Of course, you may still cash any Series E Bond two months after purchase. But you'll be smart to hold your Bonds—let them keep earning interest for you!

Strengthen your own future and the future of your country. Join the Payroll Savings Plan!

If you're not already among the wise Americans who are investing in a secure future, why not start now? Invest in Savings Bonds regularly . . . through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Eight million Americans have found it's one sure way to save, because it saves something out of every pay check before you're tempted to spend it! Join the Payroll Savings Plan today.

If you want to be paid your interest as current income—invest in 3% Series H

If you want a good, sound investment which pays you your interest by check every six months, ask at your bank about United States Government Series H Bonds.

Series H is a new current income Bond available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on 30 days' notice. Matures in 9 years and 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased at any bank, annual limit $20,000.

Now even better!
Invest more in Savings Bonds!

Deadline Nears to Retain NARS Rating

Many air force reservists now assigned to the non-affiliated reserve section (NARS) are faced with a deadline of December 31, 1953 to secure sufficient yearly reserve points to keep their reserve benefits alive.

Lieutenant Colonel Kenneth C. Wojick, Commander of the 2471st air force reserve combat training center, Park Ridge, said NARS personnel who fail to earn the mandatory minimum 30 points annually will automatically be reassigned to the ineligible reserve section (IRS). Fifteen points must be earned through participation in reserve activities. Fifteen points annually are gratuitous for reserve membership.

It is difficult to say which may be most mischievous to the human heart, the praise or the dispraise of men.

In Korea

Donald Hasse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hasse, Route 1, Box 221, Arlington Heights, was recently promoted to corporal while serving with I Corps in Korea.

The corps, one of three in Korea, cordinates the intensive post-truce training and reconditioning of UN units under its control.

Corporal Hasse, a track mechanic with the 96th field artillery batallion's battery B, entered the army in April, 1952 and attended armored school at Fort Knox, Ky., before arriving overseas last February.

In civilian life he was a farmer.

Make Sure Social Security Credits Have Been Properly Made

Are you sure that all your earnings have been credited to your social security account? Miss Ellen McGuire, manager of the 5306 W. Lawrence ave., Chicago, social security field office, advises if you can't answer "yes," you should make inquiry at the local office.

Earnings may be credited only if the name and number reported agree with the social security administration records. Miss McGuire pointed out failure to give your social security number, or giving your employer an incorrect number prevents the administration from crediting earnings to individual accounts promptly. Incorrectly reported earnings may be credited properly, but only after considerable delay and expense.

For example, brides should notify the administration promptly of the change of their name since they face the problem of changing their names on numerous records. Miss McGuire suggests brides put social security at the head of the list. It requires only a few minutes time at the field office.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

The favorite theme of the travelogue editors about "changeless India and the mysterious East" is about ready for the waste-basket. The rapid changes which are taking place today could not even been foreseen as recently as five years ago.

Arthur T. Mosher, formerly principal of Allahabad Agricultural Institute, in India, was speaking on the current missionary task in India.

THE CHANGES that have taken place in village and family life have been fantastic. The result has been a schizoid aspect in the mental and spiritual life of India.

Among the people there is an ever-growing determination for progress. There are continuing efforts to broaden the base of national democracy, economic as well as political. The raising of the standard of living is a task in every segment of society. After centuries of divided rule in the old petty states of the maharajahs, and two centuries of British colonialism, there is an unmitigated drive to success on the part of both India and Pakistan.

There has been a curious resurgence of emphasis on Hindu orthodoxy in religion. Coming out of colonialism, the national religion has been elevated in various ways. Christian missions would be making a drastic mistake, if Christian people were to assume that this represents a renaissance in Hinduism and were to regard the combatting of Hinduism as a primary task of Christian missions.

THE TRUTH is that the prestige values of a national religion prevent the repudiation of Hinduism for psychological reasons. As a religion, it is an expression of isolated, rigid culture patterns. The world changes, India is changing, and Hinduism simply cannot meet the changes.

India today, despite the lip-homage to Hinduism, is becoming a secular people. Morally, for the most part, the people are operating on Christian ethics out of British Liberalism. Christian missionary work in India is more and more like missionary work in the United States—the rural missions and city missions in one country are much like those of the other. The poor in the cities of India may be poorer, but the needs, and the techniques for meeting the needs are similar.

Indeed, Henry Jones, who used to be the guiding hand at Dodge Community House, Detroit, has been serving the Board of Foreign Missions (Presbyterian) for several years in the development of community group work in China, India, and Latin America. One of the things that Arthur Mosher spent some time doing in his work in India was to live in a village, as a villager, yet also with demonstration projects in farming, home sanitation, dietitics; his father had been an extension professor at the University of Illinois before he was born. Arthur Mosher has carried the extension department of the Ag school around the world.

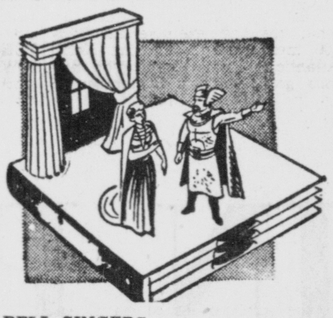
Words & Music

by Erica Floyd



LESLIE BELL SINGERS

Presenting the second concert in the current series of Community Concert programs before an appreciative audience, the Leslie Bell singers, a group of 29 girls' choir members from Canada entertained with a variety of musical offerings which ran from Gregorian to Gershwin, and from sacred to secular.

Attractively gowned, they presented an appealing stage appearance, and although singing under an assistant director due to an emergency trip home by their regular conductor, they seemed to present the type of program that their listeners enjoyed.

Certainly there was variety, contrast, charm, arrangements suited to a treble group, folk songs, spirituals, art songs, better than average diction, excellent intonation, a good balance of voices and enough dramatic effects to make up for the monotony of a complete program of treble a capella music.

They present the type of entertainment program that proves most popular with the boys in service at camp shows, in possessing a wide variety of music presented in a variety of moods. They are also popular over radio and television networks in their own country. There are about 90 members of the organization, of which part go on tour, a part remain home to carry on broadcasting committments, and on occasion the whole group participate in programs in their own country.

Certainly they are a unique organization, of which there is no parallel in this country, unless it could be an instrumental and vocal girl ensemble that has been popular on the theatre stage circuits of the country for the last fifteen years. Their three week tour of the Northern and Eastern sections of our country will close this week.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Thanksgiving Day, in thousands of churches, ministers will praise and thank God for the many blessings he has bestowed on mankind. Many of the ministers will repeat all of the many great things which God had permitted to happen as a result of the development of the power of reasoning in man.

Yet how many of the congregation will indeed feel grateful to God? And how many will instead feel a smug satisfaction at the progress of mankind? How many will feel proud he is a citizen of those nations whose thinking has gone into the invention and production of new commodities which have contributed to the physical welfare and material development of hundreds of millions of people?

HOW MANY will give God the credit; and how many will think that the credit belongs to man? How many will feel genuinely and humbly grateful for God's blessings? And how many will instead feel proud, powerful, and wonderfully convinced that all of our success has been our own making?

There are few among us who will not say that we are the most advanced nation in the world scientifically, educationally, economically, socially and politically. There are none who will deny that we are the most powerful nation in the world. We credit our greatness to our own energy, ambition, foresight, intelligence and courage.

WE HAVE GREAT universities, scientific laboratories, libraries. Our seemingly limitless wealth has created the wonder and envy of the world. Yes, on Thanksgiving Day we will euologize God; we will sing praises to Him for the blessings he has brought us but how will we be in our hearts? Proud? Humble?

Joe Meek First Candidate for Senator

Joe Meek, president of the Illinois Federation of Retail associations, made his formal announcement Monday as a candiate for Republican nomination for U. S. Senator.

In his statement of candidacy Meek said he had been urged to run for the senate post early in the year by Cook county and downstate farm and business leaders. Since then he has attended more than 100 regular party meetings and received nearly 1,000 personal letters urging him to make the race.

"After five months of travel throughout the state I am convinced that by promising strict adherence to the 1952 Republican platform I can defeat any Democratic opponent that runs on the record of the New Deal, the Fair Deal or any other socialistic deal," he said.

Bits O' Business

Du Pont has sold its line of aromatics for soap, perfume and cosmetics to an American subsidiary of a French chemical firm . . Government forecasters say farmers' costs will fall in 1954, but prices will go down as fast as faster . . . Department store sales in Eastern cities were even with those of a year ago, a good showing considering the untimely warm weather . . . Steel production last week was 2,137,000 tons, little changed from the week before.

Tells Story Of 5 Weeks At Sea

It has been suggested by the news department of Paddock Publications that the readers of Paddock Publications would be interested in the story of navy life starting with Exercise Mariner as the editor found it upon his recent 13,000 mile journey on the Atlantic and Mediterraneum. Stories that have been published about his experiences will not be duplicated.

The series will start from Quonset Point, R. I., where the editor boarded the plane carrier, Bennington, Sept. 16, 1953. Snapshots will appear with the stories each week on the "Way Back When" page.

Exercise Mariner, an international training exercise involving 300 men-of-war from nine North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations got underway September 16 as participating United States ships sailed from Norfolk, Va., and Quonset Point, R.I.

The maneuver, which ended October 5, is under the joint direction of three Atlantic Alliance Commands with headquarters in Norfolk, Va., Portsmouth, England and Paris.

About 1,000 aircraft and half a million allied servicemen, mostly sailors and airmen were involved in the greatest Allied naval exercise ever held.

Ships, men and planes from Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom and the United States participated in war games with the emphasis placed on the unspectacular but all important duties of safeguarding the sea lanes by hunting submarines, air attack and air defense operation in order to test the naval potential of the free world.

In addition to conducting offensive air operations by the carrier striking force, which includes the United States carriers BENNINGTON and WASP and the battleship IOWA, Exercise Mariner will depict the importance of Mobile Logistic support which is the military science that embraces all details of transporting and supplying the hundreds of ships at sea.

By the use of Mobile Logistic support, naval vessels may remain at sea for approximately six months without having to put into port to replenish depleted supplies and provisions.

The importance of naval supply is underlined by the fact that the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts has been assemblying material and provisions at various Naval Supply Centers and Depots for months in preparation of the exercise. The majority of supplies and material was furnished to Exercise Mariner and loaded by the Norfolk Naval Supply Center.

Through the bureau of supplies and accounts, the supply corps and the Navy supply system the basis mission of service to the fleet is carried out as completely and as speedily and yet as economically as possible.

Embodying many modern business principals, the supply corps with its management responsibilities establishes procurement policies and operating procedures for navy purchasing offices, supply centers, shipyards and other field activities.

By the end of the 1953 fiscal year, the Navy through its supply system had made payment to private industry in excess of eight billion dollars for delivered material.

In all types of Naval operations —oil, food, clothing is needed and must be made available to the fleet on a moments notice. For a ship to remain at sea for an indefinite period it must have the support offered by Mobile Logistics, otherwise the efficiency of any striking fleet or task force would be impaired by the lack of vital food and equipment.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Monday is a day that should jolly well be done away with. There is something about this seemingly innocent day of the week that sends us into the doldrums. We can't honestly say that we feel blue on Monday it's just that we always wish we could stay in bed with our head under the covers.

Some gay souls may greet the beginning of a new week with a smile on their smug faces and a song on their silly lips. Such people should be either shot (on a Monday) or drummed out of the human race. It is unnatural.

Our house always looks as though the Foreign Legion and the Communist Army had met there and either had a wonderful time or carried on a small war. We suppose we should not really blame this state of affairs completely on Monday but Sunday should shoulder part of our displeasure too. Sunday at our house is not a day of rest but of restlessness with small ones taking off in all directions. Sunday is a day when they all eat. They eat all the time and they eat all over the house. "Throw the bread crusts where you will for tomorrow we will be back in school" is the battle cry. We are all through with Monday and next week we shall start out with Tuesday.

From an article written in the Palatine Enterprise last week, we now understand that parents aren't well enough trained to be parents. This comes as a great shock to our grandmother who reared several various and assorted children without the aid of a B.S. in child psychology. Little did she know what an utter fool she was to attempt such a thing.

We want it clearly understood that we are all for higher education. We also think there is a very definite place in the world for psychologists. This will make them very happy and give them a new lease on life. We do maintain (here comes the gimmick) that far too much has been written on parental mistakes and their effect on the young. The young are tougher than whang leather and most mistakes that us old folks make roll off them like water off the proverbial duck.

Anyway, it does not appear that all this talky talk on repressions, frustrations, inhibitions, and the like has too much effect on the propagation of the race. It takes more than wordy dissertations to frighten Mother Nature. The old girl seems to be here to stay. Progress is fine and we avidly read all we can get our hands on about how to rear our children. But the flat of the hand applied where it will do the most good from parent to child once in awhile lets off a world of steam for both participants. Anyway, which is more important, the egg or the hen?

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Although summers are gay and fun at Manapisu, what with outdoor picnics and guests arriving almost every week end, I really love to see the chilly fall days come to the farm. It is at this time of year that Gramma and Grampa's cozy little recreation room really comes alive with activity. Last week end a bright, crackling fire burned almost continually in the big stone fire place, while we ate our meals, listened to records, watched a little television, looked at slides and chatted.

We arrived about noon on Saturday, and as we were taking our things into "Children's House" (while hanging onto our hats in the midst of the gale that is always blowing up there, no matter what the season), Mother and Papa McA came out of the house and across the yard to meet us. Even though it had only been a few weeks since the fond grandparents had seen their little grandchildren, they greeted them as if it had been months and claimed that they were much bigger, prettier, and brighter, of course, than when they last saw them! I'm sure that Megan and Bridget think it very unfair that they no more get to say hello to Gramma and Grampa and have lunch, than they are popped into bed for their usual nap. But "Mama" and "Daddy" think it's very "fair," to say nothing of pleasant, to have these couple of hours to catch up on all the happenings at Manapisu.

BEFORE GOING OVER to "main" house we took a peek in the barn to see the work that has been completed in there — new, freshly painted white stalls and pens for the steers and horses to come into when the freezing blasts of ice and snow sweep down on their already graying meadows. We also made an inspection of the new cement floor and the spot where, when it was being laid, Megan, Bridget, Bob and I each made a hand print. We were surprised to find the impressions so deep and clear, especially that tiny little print of Bridget's.

It was almost one o'clock, and anxious to see our old alma mater Northwestern play its Homecoming game, we went over to the house and downstairs to the television set. How good it felt to come in out of the cold to the warmth and cheer of this room, softly lighted by the lamps and the golden reflection of the firelight on the mellowed pine walls. The game was a dreadful disappointment, however, watching it from such comfortable surroundings eased the pain considerably.

I THINK I SHALL NEVER EAT or see again any more juicy, thick and tender steaks that we had that evening — the last of good, old "Charlie" who in the past few months has made his home in the deep-freeze. Full, warm and sleepy we all retired early that evening.

Sunday's sunshine disguised the fact that the wind had a chilly bite to it. Yet, we still wanted to spend some time outside, so after church, dinner and nap time, Megan, Bridget, Bob, Jack and I took on the job of feeding the steers and horses grazing in the fields behind the farm. This meant for the girls and me a ride out to the fields on the bundles of hay, which Bob and Jack had tossed down from the loft on to the hay rack. As soon as the animals saw us coming, they started toward the wagon, and as Jack pitched the hay off, they gathered in groups around each mound.

As we rode back through the field, we could see far off beyond the buildings of Manapisu ribbons of rose, blue and yellow streaking across the gray autumn sky, in the wake of the setting sun. By the time our wagon rolled into the barn yard, the last sliver of gold had disappeared over the horizon and it was time for our little family to go home.

My love,
Patty.

Moon Is Blue

A recent letter from an Arlington Heights reader "protested the exposing of the good people of this town to this movie (The Moon is Blue) etc."

In the first place, nobody is "exposed" to this movie or any other. All showings of this movie that I have seen advertised, have made it very clear that adults only would be admitted. I hope we can assume that adult Americans have sufficient intelligence to determine for themselves whether they want to pay their money to enter a theatre in which this movie is being shown and are thus not unwittingly "exposed" to it.

If this reader is seriously concerned about good people being exposed to suggestiveness or immorality, I recommend he turn his attention to the billboards, newspapers, magazines, television, movie advertising displays, etc. which daily flaunt the physical charms of various Hollywood actresses or cover in unnecessary detail sordid crimes and divorce proceedings. To these latter he might say that good people are exposed, but in the instance he cites I fear he is riding his cliches a little too hard.

IN THE SECOND place I seriously wonder how much he actually knows about the movie he is criticising, or does it just look like a good safe one to pick on because others have done so? I have not seen the picture myself, but I have talked to several fine people, in whose good taste and high standards of morality I have full confidence, who saw either the play or the picture and found them delightful and thoroughly decent.

Our churches are to be congratulated for many of the battles they have fought to uphold and protect our standards. But when a representative of a church thunders so ponderously against such a small harmless subject, he does nothing but weaken the ability of the churches to use their influence effectively. It is most regrettable that the term "blue-nose" ever came to be associated with the worthwhile reform efforts of many fine people in the past and present, but it is letters like the one that I am protesting that have brought this association about.

Pheasant Hunting

Mr. John Babb
Sheriff of Cook County

Our young son, David, was playing in his sand pile yesterday afternoon with his little brother, Paul—they were having so much fun—today our little boy David is dead. Yesterday was November 11, Armistice Day—the opening day of hunting season—what a coincidence that these two days should come together.

I had read a short but powerful article in the Palatine Enterprise only two weeks ago telling us not to fear, that we would be protected by the sheriff's police—anyone shooting within 450 feet of any building would be apprehended—just call our county police and they would take care of it. I did. I called your police about one thirty o'clock, and complained that the hunters were hunting all around us and our neighbors—not caring where they shot. I told your officer that a hunter had been shot in the eye by another hunter, less than 400 feet from our front door—only 50 feet from our lot line. I said that I needed help. I couldn't handle these pheasant-crazed men alone. I was told that fifty calls had come in during the last hour and that a squad car would be dispatched to our home as soon as possible. I replied that I knew what that meant—but your officer reassured me that help would be on its way. It doesn't matter now, it would have been too late anyhow, but for the record's sake your police never arrived.

You see, right after I called, a hunter saw his pheasant. All he wanted to do was get his bird. He was near a house, our house. (150 feet from our back door, 25 feet from our lot line—I had just begged him not to shoot near our house—had told him of the article in the Enterprise) but none of this mattered, because he wasn't going to shoot towards the houses—but the bird turned and the hunter shot.

Thank God! Mr. Babb, I can say the first two sentences of this letter are untrue, but only because I kept our little boys in the house where htey were safe . . .on second thought, were they safe in the house?

Our neighbors have told me today that shot was raining on them all day yesterday too. One neighbor had a rifle bullet go through a window two weeks ago. We've been on the receiving end of rifle bullets ever since we moved here. Marksmen from everywhere seem to think that this is a grat area to improve their sharp-shooting skill or get their game. They throw all caution to the breeze because there happens to be two 600 foot blocks with no houses on at all. The lot between us and our neighbors on the other end of our block is 150 feet wide—no buildings—and best of all, our blocks are edged by a huge area of farm land on the South. So you see, our section is ideal for hunting, or so these men seem to think. Four different times yesterday a gun was fired within "your "450 feet minimum distance from any building," the building in this case was our house. In three cases, it was fired in the vacant lot between our house and our neighbors' houses—and only 150 feet at the most, from our back door. At six forty-five o'clock this morning we were awakened by a group of shots fired less than 100 feet from our bedroom window. What are we to do?

Now if we lived in a community where there was no law enforcement agency, we would expect to arm ourselves and protect our families from these men who will not acknowledge the difference between a semi-residential area and a firing range . . . But we live in Cook County, we have a sheriff in Cook County, we voted for John Babb—YOU. In doing so, we placed our lives and the welfare of our county in your hands.

In spite of all the big problems we know you have, we are asking you to please see that something is done immediately to help all of us people in Cook County who are living in these semi-residential areas. I might suggest that you begin by issuing a last warning to the hunters, stating the law and the penalties for breaking this law—but please don't stop there.

Answer some of the calls immediately, so as to pick up the offenders, punish them, and publicize the cases—names of the men and their fines, by prosecuting a few cases you would no doubt impress many careless "sportsmen" that the sheriff means business, and keeps his word. But most important of all, you will save the life of some innocent person who will, unless you do something, surely be maimed or killed.

Mrs. Victor Baumgart

Wider Streets

In our business of newspaper distribution we know every house, street and bump in the village and surrounding country. We see the congestion, turmoil and accidents on our antiquated streets—the streets that were designed for a village of 2,500 population and horse and buggy.

At every election there is the promise to solve the street and parking problem. THAT PROMISE HAS NEVER BEEN KEPT BY FORMER VILLAGE BOARDS. Is the present village board going to keep its promise?

The solution is admittedly simple—wider streets and more parking! The stumbling block has always been how to do it and who is going to pay for it.

We will take up the problem of how to widen the streets at lowest cost. The village owns and operates trucks, end loaders, air-hammers, shovels, etc. Hire two extra men to DEVOTE THEIR ENTIRE TIME TO WIDENING STREETS. They will wreck old curbs with village airhammers, dig out parkway dirt with the village end loader, haul stone for the base with village trucks, form new curbs and have a local concrete ready mix truck pour the new curb. A black top crew can lay aspalt over the stone base already prepared. Two good men, barring obstructions, can widen one block a week. The business district streets should be widened first, then the congested areas in front of churches which are No Way streets now, especially North Dunton, North Vail, North Evergreen and West Campbell. Almost every street in town is too narrow.

The subdividers are still allowed to install their 20 foot streets. Why not 26 feet? It will not stop their building program if the village board insists on 26 foot streets. In a conversation with a local builder he said, "Why should I build a 26 foot street if I can get by with a cheaper 20 foot street?"

How to pay for the wider streets? I do not believe the property owner should pay the entire cost of street widening. It is unjust. Assess him about $2 per front foot, increase the vehicle tax of the users of the streets to $5 and use gas tax money the village gets from the State. The entire community benefits and should pay for wider streets. The two men working on widening should be paid from the general fund as should the stone, concrete and black top. Our taxes would not go up over a dollar a year.

The commuters of the North Western should appeal to the railroad for their own parking lot. I would suggest the two parks north of the fire station on both sides of the railroad.

This letter is written in all sincerity as a plea to the village board to do work on streets now. Our new one way streets are not the solution.

Why Not Wednesday?

Speaking from an employee's standpoint I would like to answer the letter which appeared in the fence post last week and was signed "Mrs. Monday." This letter advocated that the stores in Arlington Heights remain open Wednesday afternoons and close Monday mornings.

My work week is broken up when I can have every Wednesday afternoon off. I also have time to take in a matinee performance occasionally, which I could not do Monday morning.

I'm sure that the housewife, having a full week to shop from Monday through Saturday, including Friday evening until 9 p. m., should not be inconvenienced when many stores close at noon Wednesday.

I'm sure that the employers as well as the employees benefit from having Wednesday afternoons free.

I also feel that there aren't many shops in this town with a sales force large enough to warrant a Saturday afternoon off to plan week end trips.

Keep Out Kids

I am writing on behalf of the Heights Catholic High club to protest the snowing of the movie "The Moon is Blue." As you are well aware, this movie did not receive the seal of approval from Hollywood's own censor board. The movie has been condemned by the Legion of Decency and various leaders of different faiths.

In your advertisement you indicated Arlington theater is showing the movie because of many "inquires." One does not give children matches nor knives because of many "inquires."

In your advertisement you made no provision for the exclusion of teen-agers from attending. It is our opinion that you have a moral and strict obligation of showing nothing injurious to public morals.

It seems a desire to make money has out-weighed your sense of moral obligation.

Route 83 Menace

Letters of November 5 on Hwy 83 through Mount Prospect are typical of the feelings of homeowners along its route.

When a neighbor mentioned this hazard, I wrote the Chicago Motor Club. After a routine survey, the report made no constructive recommendations. But—their "expert" opinion does not alter the facts.

Northbound trucks approaching Lincoln ave., at Elmhurst take advantage of the decline to accelerate—if possible, since the turn is banked and laid out with a radius of cross-country highway proportions. The same is true of southbound trucks approaching Lincoln ave. at Main st. These three blocks of Lincoln ave. have only one patrolled school crossing to provide for this entire southeast section of the village.

If these highway curves were not in use—and there are neglected, unused turns at both of these curves with proportions the same as used in other populous areas—this hazardous truck traffic would automatically slow down, or lose what was not tied down. This might be a project worth the consideration of one of the local civic-minded groups to actively promote, and could be accomplished at a trifling cost.

THESE TWO curves are generously sprinkled with gravel, dirt from excavations, bricks, an occasional load of hay, besides the bottles of pop mentioned on Nov. 5, due to excessive speed. Strict enforcement is reported to be hampered by consideration of the withdrawal of state gasoline tax allotments.

A Nov. 5th letter also mentioned that this terrific traffic also caused dish rattling—I wonder if that is all? This four lane monster has gobbled up all but about four feet of parkway—a dangerously small margin of protection for the children who stray from the "straight and narrow" of small front yards and settled sidewalks which have sloped toward the sunken highway.

As for the houses, this narrow parkway contributes to the tremors caused by the traffic, resulting in cracked plaster, etc. The broken highway slab adds to the rumble and house rattling. All this indicates that the road was not designed for these heavy loads, especially at excessive speeds.

THE RE-ROUTING of the highway west of the village is reported to have lost its urgency with the moving to a neighboring community of a former resident of the village connected with the highway department. If the trucking lobbies would bring too much pressure against such a simple, but restrictive change as outlined above, a different route is possible. It involves more expense than merely eliminating the high speed curves, and less stalling than the plan to move the route out of town. South Elmhurst ave. is comparatively very wide. If it was opened across the railroad, and the two turns made on Central ave., it seems that it would be a safer route through the village, since unfavorable slopes which increase speed would be eliminated.

At the same time, the hazardous congestion during rush hours at the railroad station and Northwest highway would be greatly alleviated.

Missing Dog

Last Friday night our dog was hit by a car in front of our home at 11 S. Edward st., Mount Prospect. The autoist stopped, apparently picked up the dog and drove off. Though we did not see the incident, a neighbor did and immediately notified us about what happened.

Within five minutes we were outside with flashlights looking for some trace of the dog, a one and a half year old black and white springer spaniel, but to no avail. We checked with local police, animal hospitals and orphans of the storm to see if the dog had been taken to them, but it hadn't.

Whether or not the dog is dead or alive we don't know. Our two children are heartbroken over the loss of their pet. If the motorist who hit him picked him up only to dump him along the highway somewhere, it was a dreadful and mean thing to do. As long as he had the courtesy to stop after hitting the dog why couldn't he have inquired in the neighborhood as to who owned the dog?

We would rest so much easier if we knew the dog was dead or being cared for by someone. We would appreciate any information as to what happened to our dog.

Clerk's Day Off

This is my reaction to your article in the Fence Post "Why Wednesday?"

You, Mrs. Monday, have Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday morning. Thursday, Friday, Friday night and Saturday to do shopping. Yet you expect clerks (many of us have to keep house also) to do their shopping Monday morning in, at the most, 2½ hours, as we would have to be on the job again at 11:40. We would have to go out of town to do some of our shopping.

You say your house is in a turmoil on Monday because of Sunday guests. Wonder what you think the counters in the stores look like after Friday night and Saturday. Turmoil.

You suggest the clerks alternate Saturday afternoon and Monday morning, so the clerks would hear this cry, "can't I get waited on? Where are all the clerks?"

We even get to hear that when we alternate half an hour lunch time.

I can understand why the merchants are agreeable. They can run out any time of the day. Every day and do shopping. If we want to do some shopping, we must take our lunch time.

Don't you think you are a bit selfish?

A. Clerk,
Arlington Heights.

Chicago Prepares for Big Livestock Classic

Agriculture's greatest annual event will celebrate its 54th renewal as plans are made for the 1953 International Livestock Exposition and Horse Show. It is scheduled for November 28 thru December 5 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago stock yards.

Over 10,000 head of the country's top cattle, sheep, swine and horses from the majority of the States and Canada will be on exhibit. Champions from state and regional shows will compete for over $100,000 in cash awards and for the enviable purple and blue ribbons that will designate them as the continent's best.

Farm youth will dominate the first day's program, spotlighted in the junior livestock feeding contest where boys and girls from many states will show their prize winning steers, lambs and hogs from earlier shows. Judging of carload lots of prime market beeves is also scheduled for the opening day.

Use Farm Record Book

Paying $15 for a tractor repair job and then forgetting to enter it in your farm account book may cost you an extra $4 at income tax time.

Farm adviser Carl F. Mees says, for each dollar of legitimate expense a farmer fails to enter on his income tax report, he pays an extra 25 to 30 cents in taxes. It's easy to see that keeping a good record is just an necessary for showing a profit at the end of the year as for doing any farm job efficiently.

Of course. Mees says, this example does not apply to cases where income may be lesser than exemptions and personal deductions.

G. B. WHITMAN, farm management specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, has observed many farmers pay out more than they should in income taxes because they don't use up complete depreciation schedules of capital item investments. Some also fail to properly record breeding stock sales they may qualify under long-term capital gains.

While there are several good farm account books on the market, Mees reports that the University of Illinois simplified Farm Record Book has been one of the most popular among farmers of the state. About 30,000 Illinois farmers use it each year. You can get a copy at the Farm Bureau Office in Arlington Heights or Tinley Park.

Parasites Cut Egg Production

Are your chickens restless? Is your egg production down? If so, look for lice and mites in your chickens, says Dr. N. D. Levine of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

Cold weather causes these trouble-makers to spread rapidly in your flocks when birds are confined in close quarters.

BODY LICE spend their entire lives on the chickens. Look for them on the skin around the vent, under the wings and thighs and about the neck. Then dust the birds with 5 per cent DDT powder at three week intervals. A sodium fluosilicate dust may also be used.

Red mites hide in cracks in the house during the day, coming out at night to suck the chicken's blood. This may eventually kill your chickens if these pests are not controlled.

To control mites, spray the litter, roosts and nests with lindane, nicotine sulfate or a solution of 1 part kerosene to 4 parts crankcase oil. The underside of the roosts can also be painted with nicotine sulfate.

IAA Convention in Chicago This Week

More than 5,000 Illinois farmers converged on Chicago this week for the 39th annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association and its affiliated companies.

The meeting opened Monday at the Sherman hotel.

The 5,000 attendance at the meeting included about 540 voting delegates from Illinois' 99 county farm bureaus, farm bureau members and their families, farm cooperative leaders, home bureau women, rural youth members, and farm bureau personnel.

Discussed at the policy development sessions were price supports and agricultural stability, federal expenditures, foreign trade, farm credit, and other national and local issues.

Farmers Want Hot Water Too . . . Here Are Estimates on Requirements

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Hot water is something none should do without. It's necessary for the sake of cleanliness in the home—and it's a "must" from a money-making standpoint on the dairy farm. But it can be a terrible nuisance when it's provided by a bucket brigade which starts at the stove and moves unhappily from bathroom, to sink to milk house.

Hot and cold running water . . . plus telephone gives this southern farmer all the comforts of home in passageway between dairy barn and milk house.

In this automatic age it is only natural that farm people want hot water available at the turn of a faucet. After all, city folks have enjoyed that luxury for many years. The simplest and easiest way to have it is through a combination of a pressure water system and an electric water heater. This type of water heater can be installed anywhere in homes or service buildings where 220-volt service is available. It requires no long pipe runs and, therefore, can be placed close to the point of use. Automatic, electrically-operated controls keep the water at constant temperature without any personal attention.

If you're curious about how much hot water you need, here are some eye-opening figures. A family of four uses over 1,200 gallons per month in the home for bathing, shaving, dishwashing and laundry. Dairymen, with 30-cow herds, will use an average of 900 gallons per month for washing milking utensils, and other cleaning tasks around the milk house and in the barn. Water of 130 degrees is necessary for cleaning udders and stimulating cows for milking machines. Its use also reduces chances of contamination.

The size of water heater needed will vary in the farm home according to the size of the family and, on the farm, according to the type of operations conducted. It is a good rule, however, to over-estimate your needs, rather than to plan small on a "get-by" basis. When you have lots of hot water available you'll use more than you think. Costs of operation are variable, too. But, in general, a usable supply of hot water for the home can be supplied for 300 kilowatt-hours of electricity per month. Dairy farmers can plan on using about 25 kilowatt-hours of electricity for each 100 gallons of hot water supplied. Power suppliers serving your farm can give you all the installation and cost information needed to bring you "running" hot water where and as you want it.

LAW on the FARM

The hunting season has just begun, and many farm owners will again be wondering just what their rights are with respect to people who hunt on their property. Here are a few pointers:

1. No one has a right to hunt on the property of another unless he secures permission. If he hunts without permission, he is not only liable to the owner for trespassing, but is also guilty of a misdemeanor for which he may be fined. Whether or not he is prosecuted for a misdemeanor, the owner may recover actual damage caused by the trespasser — an animal killed, fences broken down or livestock frightened, for example.

2. PERMISSION to hunt is viewed legally as a "mere license" that may be revoked at the will of the owner. In the legal sense it creates no "right" in the hunter.

3. Hunters are liable for any damage caused by their negligence or carelessness, even though they have been given permission to hunt.

4. A farm owner is not liable for injuries that may occur to a hunter on his premises, unless he fails to warn the hunter about a particularly dangerous animal or object or unless he himself negligently injures the hunter. Though no legal significance may attach, an owner should probably warn hunters that other hunters are on the premises when this is the case.

5. FARM TENANTS hasve possessory rights in the farm and are the persons from whom permission must be secured. Permission to hunt given by a landlord is of no effect and is not-binding on the tenant. As a matter of law, landlords themselves cannot hunt on their rented farms unless they reserve the right in the lease or secure the tenants' consent.

Understanding his legal rights should not influence a farm owner or tenant in his attitude toward persons who wish to hunt. An owner can be friendly and create good feelings, even though he may have to deny persons the right to hunt.

Rearrange The Outdated Drive For Better Use

Many Cook county farmers are still using the same driveway that was used back in the horse-and-buggy days. Most of these drives are inconvenient and out of date. They need to be rearranged to fit in with present-day methods of farming.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees suggests getting at this job now that the harvests are out of the way. A modern driveway will not only make your farmstead more attractive, but will be more convenient and safer to use than your old outmoded drive.

MEES RECOMMENDS constructing your driveway so that it will be accessible to the living room door. Provide ample parking space near by, with plenty of room for farm traffic to pass the parked cars. Another desirable feature is a turnabout space that will eliminate the need to back into the road or turn around in the farm court.

You'll find complete information on arranging the drive, plus several diagrams of various plans, in the leaflet, "The Farm Driveway," by H. R. Kemmerer, horticulturist at the University of Illinois. You can get your copy at the Farm Bureau office in Arlington Heights or Tinley Park.

Farm Head Asks A True Price Support Law

Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois agricultural association, Wednesday recommended a true price support law to prevent farm price collapse rather than the present 90% support program, which, he said, "is for all practical purposes a price fixing law."

Shuman, in his address before the 39th IAA annual meeting at the Sherman hotel, said "there is a vast difference between government supports for farm prices and price fixing by government action.

"The essential difference between price fixing by government at high support levels such as 90% of parity and a proper use of price supports is that price fixing action completely eliminates the free market price determined by supply and demand.

"PRICE FIXING replaces the free market price with an arbitrarily set price level," Shuman said. "Price supports, on the other hand, permit reasonable fluctuations in market price and relative freedom of action for producers and consumers as they respond to prices."

Shuman said, "We are now experiencing the results of the failure of price fixing with the accumulation of huge surpluses of the price fixed commodities.

"While producers increase production under the stimulus of rigid, 90% prices, consumers reduce purchases or shift to substitutes. We have priced ourselves out of the butter market and are rapidly doing the same for other commodities.

"ANY LONG continuation of government price fixing would necessarily result in complete government control of both production and consumption," the IAA president said.

"With a few relatively simple amendments it would be possible to change the entire emphasis of our farm program from one of encouraging expansion in production to emphasis on adjustment to meet needs and from government price fixing to a program of supporting prices at reasonable levels."

Shuman said that there is a growing demand among farmers for a simple adjustment program based on a soil conservation allotment for each farm. This would result in increasing the acreage of cultivated land in soil conserving crops or practices.

"If this approach were followed, specific crop acreage allotment programs could be abolished and the farmer given the right to choose freely the crops he would produce on the acreage remaining after he had complied with his soil conservation base or allotment," Shuman said.

He added that this type of program would probably meet with the approval of the producers of livestock, poultry, fruits and vegetables, and the feed crops.

Dehorning Pays on Native Calves

Those native calves you're planning on feeding out next year should be dehorned early this month. It'll make them a lot easier to handle and may mean more money in your pocket.

That's the opinion of farm adviser Carl F. Mees. He says dehorning will mean less commotion at the feed bunk next winter and make the cattle more attractive when they're sold. It'll also prevent horn bruises which will result in lower prices.

Early November is also a good time to wean the calves and start them on their wintering program.

GI Farm Loans

Nearly half of the 65,000 veterans who have obtained GI farm loans were engaged in specialized farming operations, according to a survey of GI loans guaranteed or insured by the Veterans Administration. Of the total, almost nineteen hundred Illinois veterans had received farm loans.

The study of farm loans shows that 20 per cent were engaged primarily in producing grain, cotton, fruits or vegetables; 17 per cent, in dairy products; 8 per cent, in livestock; and 2 per cent, in poultry.

The remaining 53 per cent, or approximately 35,000 received GI farm loans, to operate general farms with diversified crops or products.

Big Demand for Engineers

Opportunities for students in the field of agricultural engineering are far greater now than at any time during the past 40 years, according to E. W. Lehmann, head of the department of agricultural engineering at the University of Illinois.

Although there is a general shortage of engineers in all branches, the shortage of agricultural engineers in proportion to available positions is probably even greater, as indicated by openings for agricultural engineering graduates.

Many farm machinery manufacturers have indicated a desire to add agricultural engineers to their staffs for design, research, production, advertising and sales work, Lehmann says. In addition, many other manufacturers of agricultural equipment and supplies have openings for agricultural engineers. Government services, contractors and consulting engineers also have positions open.

Agricultural engineering graduates from an accredited institution like the University of Illinois are trained as engineers. As students they take enough agricultural subjects to give them a broad understanding of farm problems. Nearly all the agricultural engineering graduates have also had farm experience.

High school students who have aptitudes for mechanics and mathematics and yet wish to work in close connection with agriculture should investigate the possibility of studying to become agricultural engineers. Consult your principal and the University of Illinois undergraduate study bulletin to make sure you are taking the required high school courses for admission to the college of engineering at the University of Illinois.

Receiving the donation is Harry H. Semrow of 6120 Northwest Highway, Chicago, chairman of the Blind Activities Committee of the Lions Clubs of Illinois. "AID TO THE BLIND WEEK" has been appropriately scheduled to begin November 23rd and continue through Thanksgiving Week. The slogan for the drive "BE THANKFUL YOU CAN SEE" will remind the public to help those less fortunate—the blind of Illinois.

Consider These Points Before Remodeling

If you are planning to build or remodel a house on your farm, it's a good idea to keep in mind the possibility that it may sometime serve as a tenant house. That means you'll want to consider including certain special features.

Farm adviser Carl F. Mees says tenant families are usually young and growing, so you'll want to provide for the needs of young children. A growing family also means more work for the homemaker, so you'll want to consider features that will reduce her work load.

MEES SAYS combining the workroom with the kitchen or locating it near by will go a long way toward reducing unnecessary steps. A basement is an excellent feature for a farm home if it can be kept dry and warm, but it's only the second best place for a workroom.

A workroom with an insulated concrete slab floor, located next to the kitchen, has been a popular improvement for many Illinois farm tenants. Construction costs are relatively low, and floors are easy to keep clean. Clean-up and wrap storage facilities close to the back door are important labor-savers too.

IN DESIGNING houses for the safety of children, Mees suggests omitting winding stairways. They may save space, but their danger is all out of proportion to the value of space saved.

Be sure there's ample room to stand where doors swing onto stair landings, porches or platforms.

A place where children can look outside is important — especially in the winter when they can't go outside and play. A few windows low enough for children will stop precarious climbing and prevent falls.

There are other construction points you'll also want to consider before the carpenters arrive. You'll find complete information in bulletins and pamphlets Mees has available at his office.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Leatherwood Wainscot

THE wainscot of a child's room is subjected to hard wear and tear. If it's papered, this lower wall area soon has a sorry appearance and must be replaced.

By surfacing this space with a tough, durable panel, the youngster and his playmates may play at ease, and there is no problem of a marred wall. Often used for a wainscot in nurseries and recreation rooms is Masonite Leatherwood, which is selected for its long life and nice appearance.

This hardboard panel has an embossed surface that looks like Spanish grain leather. It is extremely tough and highly resistant to abrasion and moisture. It may be beautifully painted in a solid color or in two tones.

Leatherwood, which may be obtained from lumber dealers, comes in widths of four feet. As it is only one-eighth inch thick, it may be applied directly over the existing wall.

Set Dates For Winter Short Course At Urbana

Dates for the third winter short course in agriculture at the University of Illinois were announced by H. W. Bean, short course supervisor. The course will begin November 30, and end January 21.

Bean says the short course is especially for young farmers, but older ones are also welcome to enroll. The purpose is to give farm people a chance to bring themselves up to date on late developments in modern agriculture. Applicants should have a background of farm experience and be at least 18 years old if they haven't graduated from high school.

YOU CAN GET complete information and an application form by writing to Bean at 104 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana.

You will be able to fit your course of study to what interests you most. Some of the courses to be offered include farm management, marketing, crop production and feeding and management of beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine and sheep.

While you're attending the short course, you'll be able to attend the athletic contests, dances and other social events. Housing will be arranged by University Housing, so there'll be no trouble finding a place to stay.

Steel Production Drops

Steel production in Chicago Metropolitan Area mills amounted to 1,711,500 tons in October, 1953, an increase in output of 35,900 tons over the 1,675,000 tons produced in September.

For the first time this year, however, steel production fell below the corresponding month in 1952. In October of last year, 1,726,700 tons of steel were produced in Chicago area mills.

Says Corn $1.50 By Next Harvest

The price of corn will rise to around $1.50 a bushel before next harvest. That is the opinion of L. J. Norton, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois.

Norton thinks farmers will place enough 1953 corn under price support to raise the price to the $1.50 area, which is the "effective loan" price. This price is the official loan rate less necessary fees, interest, taxes, and shrinkage. It is the market price which many farmers are willing to take in preference to the government loan.

Norton further points out that average prices of farm products have been working lower since February 1951. The downturn was rather abrupt after July 1952. Two probable causes for this decline were (1) a considerable increase in marketings of farm products and (2) a decrease of about one-third in agricultural exports.

* * *

THREE FACTORS depressed the corn market this past year:

The crop was large (3.3 billion bushels)—10 per cent greater than needs.

Hog numbers were decreasing. Both fall and spring pig crops were cut by around 10 per cent.

The government sold large quantities of old 1948 and 1949 corn that it had acquired in supporting prices of corn in those years.

MANY FARMERS overlook the fact that most or all of the gains from crop loan and storage programs are lost when later sales of the surplus products prevent normal market recoveries.

Price-supporting forces in the market this past year were as follows:

Exports of corn increased from 81 million bushels in 1951-52 to 124 million in 1952-53.

Farmers increased their feeding to poultry, dairy cows and beef cattle.

Farmers placed nearly 400 million bushels of corn under price support loans and purchase agreements.

NORTON OBSERVES that recent prices for corn have been 5 to 15 cents a bushel under corresponding 1952 levels. These are the main reasons for the lower prices:

The supply is larger—4.0 billion bushels as against 3.8 billion last year.

The supply of wheat, which is extensively used for feed, is extremely burdensome.

Hog numbers are down 10 per cent.

State Normal University Provided 800 Teachers For Schools of State

Illinois State Normal university alumni obtained 521 new teaching positions in 20 states the past year, according to the annual report of the bureau of appointments released this month.

Although the highest salary for a beginning teacher, $3,750, went to an elementary graduate who took a position in California, only 10 per cent of the new jobs accepted were outside Illinois.

The bureau handled 5,468 requests for teachers in 12 months and helped over 300 former students as well as current graduates to obtain positions.

For the first time in history the average salary, $3,136, paid beginning elementary teachers from ISNU was higher than the average, $3,125, paid beginning high school teachers, Dr. Harold E. Gibson, who directs university placements, reports.

Lecture on Classics

The first of this season's Century Fund lectures at Northwestern University will be delivered at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 24, in room 108 of Harris hall, on the Evanston campus. All lectures will be free and open to the public.

The first speaker, Jakob A. O. Larsen, visiting professor of classical languages at Northwestern and professor emeritus at the University of Chicago, will discuss the attitude of the ancients, particularly the Greeks and Romans, toward democracy.

"LYNCH THE BARGAIN MAN" Says...

Perhaps You've Wondered How It's Possible To

SAVE UP TO 50% at BARGAIN CITY

HERE'S THE STORY:

We are often able to acquire brand new merchandise at far less than the original manufacturer's cost. This is, many times, the result of overstocked shelves, expiring leases, sheriff's sales or other unforseen events.

THIS MEANS we can, in turn, pass these savings on to our customers. That's why you can expect savings of up to 50% or more at BARGAIN CITY.

NATURALLY, we do not always have complete lines or size ranges but on the items we have that you can use, we guarantee you WILL SAVE!
